

JAP FINANCIAL FAMILIES ARE LIQUIDATED

Gen. MacArthur Issues Most Drastic of All Orders Against Individuals and Corporations

OTHERS ARE ON LIST

By MURLIN SPENCER
Tokyo, Nov. 6.—(P)—General MacArthur today smashed Japan's four greatest financial and industrial families and gave notice of his intentions to break up all such combines to "aid Japanese economic development along peaceful, democratic lines."

The Japanese government was ordered immediately to prepare to dissolve Aikido, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo and Yasuda and their holding companies and to eliminate their controls of Japanese finances and industries.

MacArthur further told the government to set up a holding company liquidation association to direct the dissolution under indirect Allied control and warned that all policies and personnel must have his approval.

Along with the directive aimed at the great Zaibatsu interests with their ramifications which spread throughout the world before the war, the supreme Allied commander said he intended to permit "wider distribution of income and ownership of the means of production and trade in Japan and to aid the Japanese economic development along peaceful, democratic lines."

The government also was directed to take immediate steps to "eliminate and prohibit Japanese participation in private international cartels or other restrictive private international contracts or arrangements."

The sweeping order—the most drastic of all against individuals or corporations yet issued by MacArthur—means the complete retirement from Japan's business life of the big four families—Yasuda, Mitsubishi and Sumitomo, whose companies bear their names and Iwasaki, which controls the Mitsubishi interests.

"The way has now been cleared for the first time in Japanese history for the Japanese people to achieve economic freedom," MacArthur said.

All members of the four families were directed to resign immediately from "all offices held by them in any financial, commercial, non-commercial or industrial enterprises" and "to cease forthwith to exercise any influence either directly or indirectly in their management."

Pullman Hearing Enters Second Day

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—(P)—Thurman Arnold, counsel for Otis & Co., petitioner for the purchase of the Pullman Company, attempted to show today that another petitioner, The Standard Steel Spring Co., of Coraopolis, Pa., was trying to satisfy the railroad over whose lines most of the sleeping cars operate.

At the opening of the second day's hearing in U. S. District Court on the petitions of three independent firms and a group of 22 railroads, Arnold asked Robert C. Enos, president of Standard Steel, if he was aware that the Union Trust Company and the Bankers Trust Company, which finance the business of Standard Steel, also do business with persons interested in the Pullman Company and the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads.

Arnold asked Enos if he knew that Richard Mellon, a director of Union Trust, was also a large Pullman stockholder; that William F. Rockefeller, chairman of the board of Standard Steel, was associated with the Pittsburgh Equitable Meter Company; that George Whitney, director of the J. P. Morgan Company, was also a director of New York Central railroad; that Elisha Walker, member of "the Mellon group," was a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Enos was aware of some of these associations but flatly denied that he had "explored these interests."

Priest Tells of Starvation And Torture By Japanese Troops

By JAMES HALSELMA

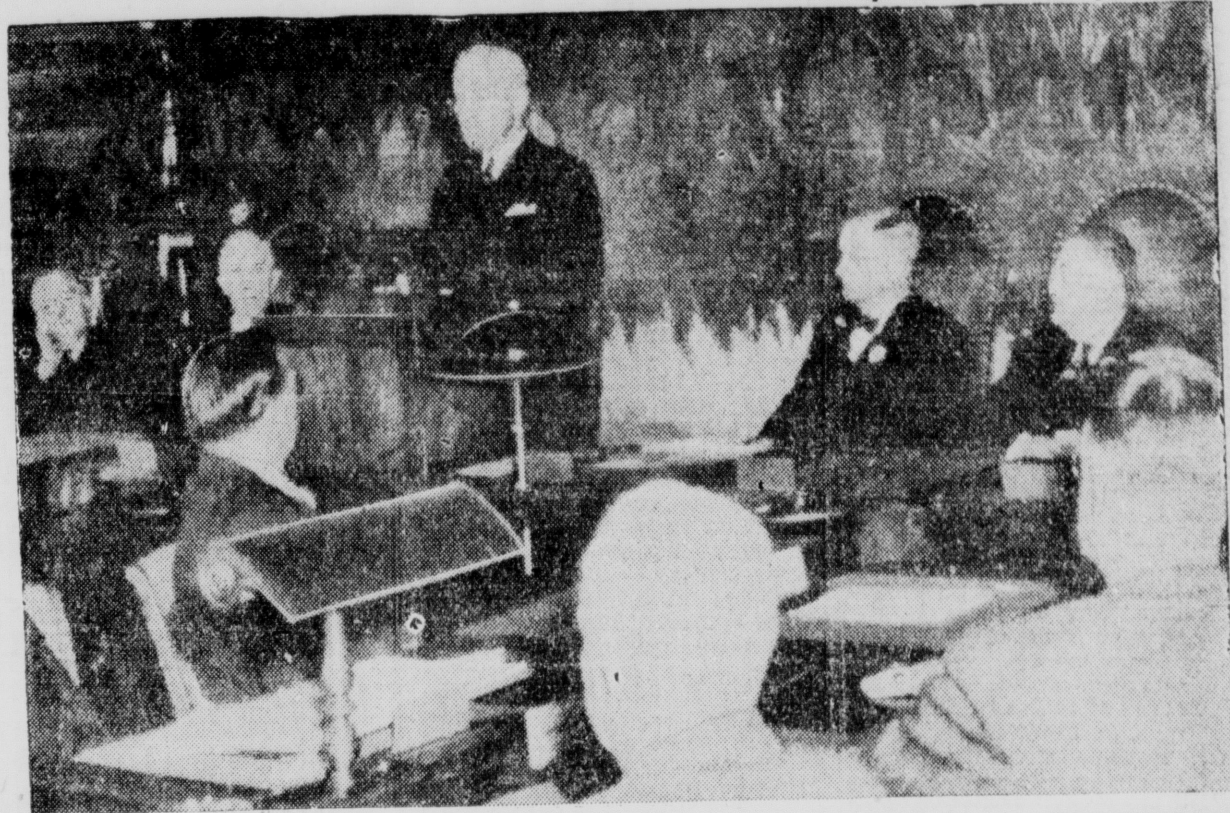

Manila, Nov. 6.—(P)—A Spanish priest and a Filipino laborer testified at the war criminal trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, recounted today the starvation, torture and massacre of 6,000 Filipino and Chinese civilians by Japanese troops before the fall of Manila last spring.

Father Belarmino Decelis of the Spanish Augustinian Order, said that last February 5 the Japanese jammed the 6,000 civilians into the ancient church of St. Augustine, oldest building in Manila.

The men were thrown into the old dungeons which served the Spanish 17th years ago. Women and children, he said, were kept without food in the church compound until they were so hungry they ate the grass and roots of the patio gardens.

On February 9, the men were

Dedicates Nov. 11 Day For Meditation

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—President Truman today proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day and called upon the people to observe it by dedicating themselves to the cause of enduring peace.

He asked the people to recall the "valor and sacrifices" of those Americans who brought victory in 1918, and urged them to devote themselves "to the building of an enduring peace among the countries of the world."

Government offices will be closed Monday, Nov. 12. A recent executive order provided for government holidays on the Mondays following national holidays that fall on Sunday.

First Elected Legislature In France Meets

By ROBERT M. WILSON

Paris, Nov. 6.—(P)—The first elected French legislature in five years convened today, charged by the electorate with the task of replacing the 1875 constitution with a foundation of constitutional law upon which the Fourth Republic of France will be constructed.

The first official act of the assembly will be the formal acceptance of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's wartime government.

Under the procedure previously laid down, the assembly will request de Gaulle to continue a caretaker government until later in the week, when the delegates select a president of the provisional government. There seemed little doubt that de Gaulle would serve as president in the seven-month period allotted the assembly for creation of a constitution to be submitted to a people's referendum.

The tall general who led France's fight for liberation will be present when the delegates sit for the first time in the red plush seats of the chamber of deputies in the Palais du Bourbon.

By custom the assembly's oldest member sits in the president's seat to supervise the parliamentary organization. This time he is 81-year-old Paul Cuttoli, delegate from Algeria, who was given the task of reading a letter from de Gaulle asserting that the tenure of the wartime government had ended and that its president was relinquishing his extraordinary wartime powers.

The 536-members constituent assembly is not yet complete. Some must not be chosen in run-off elections in the colonies, which have a total of 64 delegates.

The Communists, who won 152 seats in France alone, will have the greatest representation of any single party.

taken out and forced to stand in the open streets under the heavy artillery fire and then marched to Fort Santiago, where the burning and slayings took place.

Juan Paloda, the Filipino, testified he was one of 100 packed into stone dungeon 20 feet square. He was stabbed later and left for dead in a pit with 500 other bodies.

Defense attorneys sought to show that the civilians in the historic old area might have died in the all-out American attack with tanks, pointblank artillery fire, grenades, and flame throwers.

Earlier, an 11-year-old girl, Rosalinda Andoy, showed the military commission conducting the trial the scars of 38 bayonet wounds. She sobbed softly as she told of her mistreatment and the death of her father at the hands of the Japanese invaders.

Much - Discussed Armistice Terms With Italy Revealed

By GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—The Allies made public the much-discussed Italian armistice today, spiking some old rumors but failing to clear up entirely why the terms were kept secret for 26 months.

Released simultaneously in Washington, London and Rome, the armistice and related documents—totaling some 10,000 words—disclosed that:

1. Exhaustive unconditional surrender terms—officially still in effect—were imposed on Italy.
2. In practice, however, the Allies never invoked some provisions and modified others substantially at frequent intervals.
3. The terms provided for no territory or property.

Thus, the old rumor that the armistice gave the British a virtual stranglehold on Italian port cities for an extended postwar period was proved groundless. So were many other reports which had been bandied about—not without effect on the Italians—during the two years of Allied silence about the terms.

Then why the secrecy? Government officials explained it to reporters this way:

"The state department and British foreign office had discussed publication of the terms as early as December, 1943."

At that time, Allied military officials objected. They said the Germans and Mussolini's Fascist government in northern Italy could make good propaganda use of the armistice terms, especially among the pro-Allied partisan fighters.

The subject was brought up several times subsequently, but the original military viewpoint prevailed virtually until V-E Day.

Reminded by newsmen that almost half a year had elapsed since V-E Day, the officials, specifying they were not to be identified further, said the British and (Turn to Page Nine)

POW's Partly Responsible For Walkout

Meadville, Nov. 6.—(P)—Removal of German prisoners of war from the Malleable Iron Works Co. plant Nov. 1 was indirectly responsible for a partial closing of the plant yesterday, a labor leader declared.

Emil Kurt, president of Local 1917, United Steelworkers, said molders were asked to pour their own molds, a task formerly by the POWs. The men refused, Kurt said, and some 45 to 60 of them were sent home. Later, a number of cement makers also were furloughed because there was no work for them.

Kurt said the new work would (Turn to Page Nine)

Must Hike Costs If Wages Are Raised

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—Chairman E. T. Weir of the National Steel Corporation said today the steel industry cannot increase workers' wages unless the full cost is covered by an advance in prices of steel products.

It was Weir who in 1941 set the pace for steel wage increases by surprising the rest of the industry with a 10 per cent raise while representatives of major steel companies and union officials were in the midst of contract negotiations.

Weir declared in an interview that if increases even considerably lower than the $2 a day hike demanded by the CIO-United Steelworkers were granted without price advances it would put the entire industry in the red and force elimination of dividends to stockholders.

Commenting that the number of stockholders almost equals the number of employees in the basic steel industry and for many years exceeded the number of workers, he said "the stockholders are deserving of consideration, too."

Strike Halts Capital Buses And Trolleys

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Thousands of Washingtonians hitch-hiked or walked to work today after Capital Transit Company drivers left their jobs early this morning.

Many office-bound workers begged for spots in Washington's ever-crowded cabs. Others were just stranded.

A company official, who said the buses and street cars carry 1,500,000 fares a day, declared the tieup was complete.

The tieup developed suddenly and most of the city's early morning rush hour was disrupted. Members of the AFL union met in a blueless house at midnight to discuss demands for increased wages. They decided to continue the all night meeting on into the day, thus leaving the public service vehicles unmanned.

Since there was no forewarning that a stoppage was imminent, many persons stood patiently at bus and street car stops during the morning, unaware that they no longer were operating.

Constitution Service Director Edgar L. Warren assigned Commissioner Richard W. Goodrick to the Transit dispute.

The hitch-hiking business was brisk. Hardest hurt were the residents of Washington's large war housing centers. It's often quite a tussle to get to work from these even when service is normal.

The union claims as members 4,000 of the company's 4,700 workers. (Turn to Page Nine)

Files Sought On Churchill Letters

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Two members said today the Pearl Harbor investigating committee has called specifically for the files of the late President Roosevelt's correspondence with former Prime Minister Churchill.

They said the request was made in a letter signed by William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, and that it also listed other subjects.

These members, asking not to be identified by name, told a reporter the items wanted were listed specifically because of the physical problem involved in searching the voluminous White House files made available to the committee.

Mitchell's letter, they said, asked for any existing Roosevelt-Churchill correspondence on the Atlantic charter. The charter was publicized Aug. 14, 1941, nearly four months before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Some committee members have said privately they want to know if there was any exchange between the two leaders about the possible involvement of this country in the war.

DRIVERS FOR PACKING FIRMS PLAN STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—AFL Drivers at five local branches of large meat-packing firms have voted to strike, the National Labor Relations Board announced today.

Frank M. Keller, regional NLRB director, said the vote was cast by employees of Swift and Co., Braddock and Pittsburgh plants, and Cudahy Packing Co., Braddock and McKeesport plants. Nearly 50 workers are involved.

The local at the St. Louis Independent Packing Co., with five drivers, voted not to strike.

HOT EXCHANGE AT PARLEY IS WON BY LEWIS

Mine Workers' Chief Obtains Delay in Action on Creation of Important Executive Committee

OLD ALLY IS THE LOSER

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—A hot exchange between mine union leader John L. Lewis and CIO President Philip Murray today threw the labor-management conference into dispute over Lewis' demand for a bigger role.

Lewis came out of the scrap with a temporary victory by obtaining delay in conference action on creation of an important executive committee pending settlement of a controversy over union representation.

A proposed agenda for the conference called for an eight-member committee with four places each for labor and management. Labor's votes were to be divided equally between the AFL and CIO. Lewis demanded places on the committee for his United Mine Workers and for the Railroad Brotherhoods.

Murray, one-time ally of Lewis before the UMW leader broke away from the CIO, protested any changes in the committee makeup. Murray declared he had heard reports of a "veritable blitz" by Lewis to get on the conference executive committee.

Lewis jumped up and shouted that Murray's words constituted "despicable and unique German terminology."

Gripping a conference table, Lewis roared that "Mr. Lewis doesn't care a tinker's malediction whether he is a member of any committee personally. But the UMW chief made clear he wanted his mine workers represented."

Murray retorted that Lewis, from past acquaintance, knew he never employed "Hitler-like tactics." He added that he was prepared to support all recommendations of the conference rules committee and to give consideration to Lewis' position.

The fracas developed over the rules committee's recommendation that the conference arrange for an eight member executive committee as proposed.

Lewis succeeded in getting the conference to leave open this question.

AFL President William Green backed Lewis.

The first big issue confronting the committee is a decision on (Turn to Page Nine)

ERIE MOTORCYCLIST KILLED NEAR GIRARD

Erie, Nov. 6.—(P)—Charles A. Schaefer, 17, of North Girard, was fatally injured yesterday in the head-on crash of his motorcycle with an automobile on Route 20, west of Girard.

Coroner Warren W. Wood reported the youth died of a fractured skull in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Earl W. Platz, 17, of Girard, riding on a seat behind Schaefer, escaped with minor bruises.

The coroner said police were holding occupants of the car, Pfc. Daniel K. Drew, 20, Lexington, Mass., and Roy A. Wiltse, 24, Buffalo, N. Y., pending an inquest today.

CRAWFORD HAS TWO HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Meadville, Nov. 6.—(P)—Two hunters suffered wounds from shotgun pellets in small game hunting accidents yesterday.

Treated in Meadville City hospital, neither were reported seriously injured.

Party Leaders Regard The Result As a Testing Ground For 1946 Gubernatorial Fight

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTIONS AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press
Polls open at 7 a. m., close at 8 p. m., eastern standard time. Offices at stake:
Two superior court judgeships.
Mayor in Pittsburgh, Scranton and 18 third class cities; other municipal officials.

Some county officials, including judges, in each of 67 counties. Four proposed amendments to the state constitution.
Registration—Republican 2,572,054, Democrat 1,778,204; others combined 55,513; total 4,405,771.
Number of election precincts 8,231, including 1,027 in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) and 1,348 in Philadelphia.

By The Associated Press
Voting was about normal today in the first elections since the end of the war, but Detroit had an extra-large turnout.

Most of the elections were municipal. Politicians, however, eyed each other anxiously for some hint of things to come in the 1946 congressional races—and even the 1948 presidential contest.

The greatest interest seemed to be in Detroit. There the municipal election was warm enough to bring out 122,000 voters by 11 a. m. That's twice as many as the count at the same hour in the last city election.

New York voters were turning out in about normal numbers for an off-year mayor race. At 11:30 a. m., 33 1/3 per cent of the 2,178,908 voters had marked their ballots. Elsewhere the balloting was rated as light or normal.

The weather man gave the voters a break. "Clear and sunny" was his report for almost all of the elections.

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Light voting was reported across Pennsylvania today in the commonwealth's first peacetime election since Pearl Harbor.

With the balloting concerned locally with local contests and local issues, voters gave election boards little to do in the first few hours. The tempo was expected to increase later in the day, however, especially the last few hours when the polling places are available to workers on the way home.

The weather was warm and clear.

Pittsburgh, with its hot mayoralty fight, reported only light voting in the first few hours. There was a similar situation in Philadelphia, which had only offices of the county-city government at stake.

Two state superior court judgeships were the only contests of state wide nature. Local candidates and issues, in the main, dominated the ballot.

Democratic and Republican leaders, regarding this "off year" election as a testing ground for the 1946 gubernatorial and congressional battles, made last-minute efforts to get out the vote.

Neither of the major parties, however, expected figures to reach the 1944 total of 3,794,787—Democrat, 1,940,479; Republican, 1,835,048; miscellaneous parties, 19,260.

A total of 4,405,771 persons were eligible to vote today, 153,560 less than last year. The figures break down as follows: Democrat 1,778,204; Republican 2,572,054; non-partisan and minor parties combined 55,513.

The contest attracting most interest nationally is the Pittsburgh mayoralty in which Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence is pitted against Robert N. Waddell, Republican. Democrats have been in power in Pittsburgh since 1933.

Five kinds of police officers were ordered to patrol the polls in the smoky city. Both parties have accused each other of raising huge "slush funds" and both have predicted victories.

Scranton and 18 third class cities elected mayors. Scranton Republican Howard J. Snowden sought reelection against Democrat James T. Hanlon.

In Philadelphia, where the state's largest number of voters are concentrated, only row offices and magisterial places were at stake, but both parties expected results to give an inkling of what may come next year.

Interest was attracted to the superior court contests because of (Turn to Page Nine)

Bitter Fight Fails To Stir Lancaster

Lancaster, Nov. 6.—(P)—Lancaster citizens went to the polls today to elect a mayor and four councilmen in one of the hottest municipal campaigns in 20 years.

Despite the blistering campaign, the voting was light to medium throughout the city's 33 precincts in the early morning hours. Workers of both the Republican and Democratic parties estimated that about 65 to 75 per cent of the enrolled voters will cast their ballots.

Dr. Dale E. Cary, mayor and the Republican candidate for reelection, is opposed by H. Clay Burkholder, Democratic.

The highspot of the campaign was the charge by Mayor Cary that A. H. Keller, national labor organizer and the man who called a 26-day transportation strike here in September, promised to campaign against him.

SOVIETS URGE SHARING OF BOMB SECRET

Molotov Calls for Allied Control of Japan and Knowledge on Subject of Atomic Energy

SIGNIFICANT SPEECH

London, Nov. 6.—(P)—Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov called for an Allied control of Japan and a Moscow address today and declared "there ought to be no secrecy about the subject of atomic energy."

In a broadcast address opening Russia's observance of the 28th anniversary of the Soviet revolution, Molotov asserted:

"In the treatment of the defeated we should not let ourselves be guided by our feelings, but only by the necessity to prevent a new aggression. This applies to all countries which bear the responsibility for securing peace."

"We must then mention here the force of atomic energy which was experienced in the war with Japan. Nowadays there ought to be no secrecy about this subject."

This was the first time a high Soviet official had suggested that the United States and Great Britain share their practical knowledge of atomic energy as a means of warfare.

Molotov apparently was designated to make the traditional anniversary address in place of Generalissimo Stalin, who has just returned from vacation.

The Soviet monitor's version of Molotov's remarks concerning China was that the liberation of China was of the greatest importance to the world.

"It is clear that the Soviet Union considers most important the negotiation of control of all the Allies over Japan," he said.

"In this question no satisfactory results have yet emerged, but the importance of satisfactory results is clear to all."

Molotov told a cheering crowd that, with victory in war, "now we can return to peacetime labor."

The foreign commissar, deputy chairman of the council of People's Commissars, said the main strongpoints of aggression in west and east had been liquidated.

"When the Germans invade us they counted on the unexpectedness of their attack," Molotov said.

"Not only Germany, but many others thought the Soviet Union would not hold out long. They thought Hitler would triumph in a few weeks or months. After Hitler's eastern victories this seemed inevitable to many—mainly those who did not understand the character of the Soviet state."

"Germany's attack was also a test for our foreign friends, who watched with bated breath the difficulties of our country."

Many Quit Jobs On Bomb Project

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves said today hundreds of workers, key men and scientists are quitting the atomic bomb project because of uncertainty over the future of their jobs.

Questioned about a report to this effect, General Groves, in overall charge of the atomic bomb project, told a reporter he had lost some of his best men, both at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., as well as at Los Alamos, N. Mex. He said field representatives report that in numerous instances departing workers list "uncertainty of the future" as a primary or second cause for quitting.

Although Groves would make no estimate of the extent to which this draining off of key workers has cut production, he asserted that there has been considerable slowdown.

Rev. Edward K. Rogers, formerly a chaplain in the Chaplain's Corps, who was attached to the famous 1st Division, will be the speaker at the services in the Library Theatre on Monday.

Members of the auxiliaries of both the American Legion and the V. F. W. will attend and all service men home on leave and all discharged veterans of World War II are given a cordial invitation to be present.

On Monday, November 12th, at 11:00 a. m. exercises will be held

Police Guard Polling Places In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—State, city and county police guarded the polls today as citizens in "the workshop of the world" cast their ballots at the close of an intensely bitter political campaign.

Much of the heat was engendered by the Republican effort to wrest control of the city government from Democrats who have held sway for 12 years.

The contest resulted in part from a belief that Pennsylvania, and particularly Pittsburgh, may be pivotal in the 1948 presidential campaign.

The polls opened at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. Six judges sat in common pleas court to handle election disputes. The weather bureau predicted fair and warmer weather.

In the city race, David L. Lawrence, State Democratic Chairman, national committeeman, and former commonwealth secretary under Governor Earle, was his party's candidate to succeed ailing, three-time Mayor Cornelius D. Seely.

Opposing him for the $15,000-a-year post was Republican Robert N. Waddell, insurance man and one-time Carnegie Tech gridiron coach.

Both sides prophesied victory for their candidates. Charles Wolff, Waddell's manager, said "I predict the whole Republican ticket will be elected." John J. Kane, manager for the Democrats, declared he was confident of Lawrence's triumph "because he led the fight to give the plain people of Pennsylvania a better way of living."

Each side accused the other of having a big "slush fund." Kane said the Republicans had raised a half million dollars; James F. Malone, Alle

Fine, Sunny Day Marks Parade Of Voters to Place of Balloting

If the voters do not turn out to the polls today it will not be the fault of the weatherman who provided some of the finest sunshine to be found in a host of election days. From early morning when the sun has been turned on and the chills of the morning turned to warm, balmy air later in the day.

Fine Weather; Little Illness Helped Pupils

Reports on school attendance and health occupied much of the November meeting of the board of education, held Monday evening at the high school.

Attendance for September was shown to have been 2,713, better than 97 per cent of enrollment, a fact attributable in part to the fine weather of that month, and in part to the lack of any general illness or epidemics.

The reports of the school doctors and nurses indicated 232 students had been examined in the month of October, principally at the Johnson and South street buildings, in line with the state program set up for complete physical examination of all students every two years.

Another report showed 26,141 half-pints of milk sold in the month of October, and at Beatty and high school a total of 13,114 lunches in the same month.

The school census for 1945 was presented, figures for ages 6 to 17 inclusive showing 2,458 students as compared with 2,948 in 1939; school enrollment as of June, 1945, 2,621 as compared with 3,146 in 1939. Looking at the sixth grade report, figures for 1942 were shown to be the largest in seven years, and this total was matched in 1945.

A contract was entered into with the H. S. Garvey Company of Erie for installation of new tubes in one of the boilers at the Beatty building in the sum of $12,540.

Permission was granted the Dragon Band to appear in the Armistice Day program on Monday, November 11, to march in the Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade on Saturday, November 25; and for a string ensemble to appear on the Farmer-Rotary program on Thursday, November 15.

Mrs. William H. Wright was granted permission to have a dancing class for small children at East street school, one hour a day, one day a week, at a charge of $1 per hour.

Permission granted included that given the county commissioners to hold today's elections in the Lacy Building.

Bills were presented and ordered paid in the amount of $12,139.

Barnes Man Is Victim Of Heart Attack

Amos Taylor, 82, was found dead on the dining room floor of the dwelling house where he resided alone at Barnes, last evening after a girl from a neighboring home called there to deliver a loaf of bread and found the doors locked and the lights burning. Several men in the vicinity broke in the kitchen door and discovered the body of Mr. Taylor.

The Borden Funeral Home at Sheffield was notified and Coroner Ed Lowrey summoned. Accompanied by Chief of Police Robert Carlberg, an investigation was made which revealed that Mr. Taylor had fallen from a chair while putting on his shoes. The right shoe was on and the other lay on the floor near the body. The kitchen light was burning and it was apparent that he had eaten his breakfast. He had fallen on his face leaving lacerations and bruises over the left eye and nose. It appeared that he passed away some time after his collapse.

Removal was made to the Borden funeral home in Sheffield. Plans for the services have not been completed.

Mr. Taylor was born in Barnes April 2, 1865, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor and spent his entire life there. His wife preceded him in death seven years ago. RUTH MARY MACK

With Freddie Shaffer and His All Girl Orchestra at The Pier, Celoron Park, Thurs., Nov. 8th.

RUTH MARY MACK, featured drummer with FREDDIE SHAFFER AND HIS VICTORY SWEETHEARTS, is known as the "female GENE KRUPA." Her precision, showmanship, and dynamic personality make her an outstanding artist and one of the finest female drummers in America.

Before joining FREDDIE SHAFFER'S orchestra, she was featured solo drummer with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, but gave up in her soul and before long she abandoned the long-hair field to follow a career of KRUPA-styled drumming.

Freddie Shaffer appeared here as musical director with Doc Payton's orchestra—also directed the Harmonians in the Pier several years ago. This was one of the finest bands ever to play on Chautauqua Lake.

Curb Garbage Collection Is Soon To End

Warrentes who for months past have risen early and tugged and lugged the garbage pail and a few bags of waste to the curb for the garbage man will within a few months let the pail sit on the porch. No more will John Q. Public grunt and groan, he'll let garbage boys do it.

All of which announcement comes from the Valentine Disposal Company. They have orders placed for two new trucks and as soon as deliveries are secured the curbs will not be decorated with orange peel, hunks of head lettuce, a few old cantaloupes, etc., etc. The help situation has solved itself and it's just a matter of transportation now.

Anyhow the war is over and the garbage pails will soon remain on the back step and not on the curb for the pleasure of diabetic and hungry canine.

Will Attend Hearing Soon At Harrisburg

Nov. 14 a hearing will be held at Harrisburg called by the Department of Forests and Waters at which time discussion will be held relative to the new railroad bridge over the Susquehanna River.

Construction of the bridge is a matter of much interest to the borough and also to the Department of Forests and Waters and also to the State Highway Department. To that end the borough will be represented by Burgess Raymond Steber and City Solicitor Sidney Blackman who are expected to protest some features of the plan to be proposed by the railroad company.

WONT LIFT CONTROL
Despite reports that lifting of the rent controls will be in the offing the controls will continue in force for months to come. The housing situation in the Warren district is such that there will be no lifting of controls until more houses are available. Landlords and renters are warned to govern themselves accordingly.

New Member Seated From Second Ward On Council

C. P. DeLong, chosen as member of Council from second ward to replace Forest Waite, who has left Warren, was in attendance at the Council meeting last evening when President Patchen reported to open the meeting.

Following the usual proceeding relative to the minutes the finance committee reported balances as follows in the several funds: General $133,439.05; permanent street improvement, $8,293.80; sewers, $153.67 (overdraft); sinking $12,363. Bills in the amount of $12,091.30 were ordered paid when approved by the various committees. It was decided to send the borough secretary to the 10th annual conference of finance officers of cities and boroughs to be held at State College.

The police last month recovered $400 in stolen goods and $12 in goods that were not stolen. 97 arrests were made with $86.50 in fines.

The parking meters from September 20 to October 31 turned in $1,186.87 to the borough coffers against a similar collection last year of $884.12. Burgess Steber collected $17 in special licenses last month.

The police committee was authorized to buy a new typewriter for the department and also to advertise for bids on a new police car. A parking rule was adopted prohibiting parking on the east side of Chestnut street from the New York Central crossing to Fourth avenue. A new numbering system will also be used on a portion of West street in order to make the house numbers uniform.

Nineteen fire calls were reported last month with a loss of about $100, according to the report of the committee.

An ordinance renewing the lighting contract with the Penlee on the same rates as now in effect.

joyed was passed third reading.

Following this action, a letter was read from William Cannon, of the Brown Boot Shop, calling attention to the poor lights on Warren's streets and suggesting that a look be taken at Franklin and Indiana, business sections by council. It was also drawn to the attention of the council that a fatal accident had taken place on a street due to the dimness of the lights. It was also suggested that the street lights ten years ago had been cut from 1000 watt bulbs to 400 watt bulbs and the big bulbs ought to be replaced.

The rules of the Board of Health were also amended whereby fumigation in event of contagious diseases be halted and that the premises be given a sanitary cleaning before the quarantine is removed.

The building committee made a report on a search for a new Central Fire Station site and will make another at a later date. The committee was also given permission to replace shrubbery about the City Hall.

The scales report showed $38.80 had been turned in during the past month due to the heavy weighing of coal.

During the past month a mild building boom developed with $10,500 in new construction and $16,040 in remodeling permits being issued.

It was also reported that the Home street playgrounds would be drained and developed during the coming year. Equipment will also be placed.

Burgess Steber resorted that purchase of a quantity of OCD equipment for North Warren and the State Hospital was being made. Warren borough, under the state plan, must buy the material and then sell it to the two interests.

Ten sirens that never screamed for a real air raid will be disposed of to the best advantage. It was also reported that the City Disposal Company has not been complying with the borough rules in handling garbage and they have been given 30 days by the burgess to correct conditions or have their license revoked.

Roy Krebs reported on the work of the special committee relative to memorial park and the committee was discharged.

Resolutions of respect for the late Charles Conarro, of the park commission, and for Walter W. Beatty, borough treasurer, were read and ordered placed on the minutes and copies sent to the families.

Pastors Hear How They Can Aid Veterans

The regular meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association was held yesterday forenoon at the YMCA, the president, Rev. P. Elmer Lander, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer offered by Rev. F. W. Shope, of Russell. The devotions, following the business session, were conducted by Rev. O. L. Winger.

Guest speaker for the day was Dr. W. E. Biddle, of the State Hospital Staff, who spoke on "The Church's Responsibility to Service Men". Dr. Biddle spoke from the point of view of the psychotherapist, and pointed out how the church might be of help to the returning service people in their transition period back to civilian life.

He pointed out that many might develop psychoneuroses, due to the emotional problems with which they will be confronted, and that the minister, the family, and the friends of these service men can do much if they will but try to help him solve his emotional problems. Dr. Biddle warned against any prolonged period of idleness for the returning veterans.

4-H Club Achievement In Warren County Are Recorded

(Prepared for the Times-Mirror) Accomplishments of 4-H members throughout the nation are being reviewed this week, November 5 to 10, in what has become an annual observance, National 4-H Achievement Week.

During 1945, we had a total of 11 home economics clubs in Warren County. The total enrollment was 93 members. What did these girls do in 4-H work? First of all, they learned by doing. They chose their own projects, they elected their own officers, ran their own meetings.

Many kinds of projects were chosen. "Perking Up the Wardrobe" was a new project this year, in which the girls pressed, mended, stored, and remodeled not only their own clothes but clothes of their families as well. The 4-H Club in Corydon chose this as their winter's program. There were two clubs in Chanders Valley and in Russell, taking first year clothing work, called "The Girl at Home." Most of these girls made broomstick skirts for themselves. They darned stockings, sewed on buttons, repaired and mended clothes, and pressed garments. The 4-H Club in Corydon took "Outdoor Cookery" as their summer project. They learned to build different kinds of fires, and how to cook food out-of-doors using utensils and without the use of any utensils. Every meeting was a cookout to raise club and community funds. Menus were planned and served each time. As a finish-up activity they planned and prepared a cookout for their parents.

There were two clubs taking the first year foods project called "It's Fun to Cook." These clubs located in Lander and Garland prepared and served 389 meals this summer. 535 dishes were prepared and 314 meals were planned. The Garland Club prepared and served a mother-daughter supper at the close of the summer while the Lander girls prepared a foods gift for someone overseas or someone in the community. The Triumph 4-H Club chose the lunch-box project. These girls prepared 139 lunches and packed 137 lunches. As a finish-up activity they packed a

NEW GIANT X-RAY

The Latest Development in 50 Years of X-Ray Research

1895—Roentgen, in Germany, discovers mysterious powerful ray, names it "X"—the unknown. One year later, W. D. Coolidge, student at M.I.T., begins experimenting with x-rays. First x-ray tubes were about 25,000 volts.

1913—Dr. W. D. Coolidge, at General Electric, invents revolutionary new x-ray tube. First reliable method of controlling x-rays. This tube was 100,000 volts.

1920—Coolidge designs a completely insulated tube and transformer for a thoroughly safe x-ray unit. The first wholly safe, convenient and adequate dental x-ray outfit came out of this.

1945—NEW G-E 100-MILLION-VOLT "BETATRON"!

This 130-ton giant whirls electrons, tiniest parts of atoms, faster than man has ever been able to speed them before. So fast that they make the nearly 17-foot circular orbit of a doughnut-shaped vacuum tube 250,000 times in 1/240th of a second, and, striking a tungsten target, produce x-rays of 100-million-electron volts!

Dr. E. E. Charlton, left, and W. F. Westendorp, G-E scientists, designed this new machine, which generates x-rays over a thousand times as intense as the early Coolidge tube—with a wave length of 0.00025 Angstrom units, up in the cosmic ray band! These rays will penetrate a thickness of metal considerably greater than even the 2,000,000-volt x-ray unit.

But more important still may be the uses of these super x-ray machines in medical and atomic research. G-E is making them available to medical science for experimental therapy.

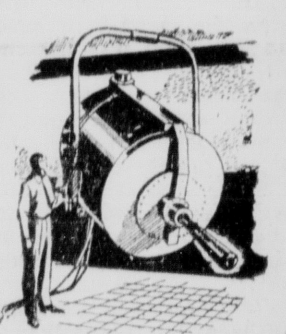

General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

1923—Coolidge develops a 200,000-volt "deep therapy" tube with water-cooled target. This higher voltage tube greatly reduced time required for x-ray treatments.

1933—General Electric builds multi-section tubes producing 800,000-volt x-rays. Installed in Mercy Hospital, Chicago, and Swedish Hospital, Seattle, these units have been in constant use ever since.

1940—First 1,000,000-volt unit, plus portability, making x-rays more useful to medicine and industry. Fifty-six of these units built by G-E X-Ray Corporation used in U.S. war production—even flown to England. In 1943 General Electric scientists and engineers developed the first portable 2,000,000-volt x-ray.

THE STATE POLICE SAY:
On winding roads with blind curves, it is to your advantage to keep strictly to the right edge of the road. The driver who continually drives in the center of the road, cuts curves etc., is not only violating the law but is endangering his life as well as the lives of other users of the highway. Operating in the center of the roadway is the cause of a large number of accidents. Always keep to the right.

NOW IS THE TIME TO FIGHT
Bradford Era

Proposals by trunk and toll highway proponents to span the state with speed lanes are meeting with vigorous opposition from the recently organized Pennsylvania Free Roads Association.

County men, representing the McKean County Motor Club, who took part in discussions at State College last week which crystallized the movement against a network of superhighways, including Guy Hughey and Harry Garvin of Bradford and Frank Fay of Smethport. Mr. Fay was elected a director of the association and Mr. Garvin was asked to accept an executive appointment in the permanent organization.

Mr. Fay has declared that the Pennsylvania Free Roads Association has no intention of blocking progress. He declares, however, that the Pennsylvania "postwar highway has gone berserk. The entire highway system in this Commonwealth has been logrolled and poorly planned."

Certainly it is the plan to build a series of superhighways across the state, bypassing town after town, leaving them "to wither on the vine" then the program has gone berserk and is poorly planned.

Highways should be built where needed for both through and local traffic. The majority of the traffic is for distances of 25 to 50 miles. Why build a bridge across Pennsylvania for the New York to Chicago traffic?

The more practical method would be to eliminate local bottlenecks for through traffic and furnish "feeder routes" for local traffic.

Why not make superhighways of Route 6 and other main arterial roads?

Roads should be built to serve the needs of the people within the borders of our own Commonwealth.

Now is the time to start the fight for this type of highway program.

POTATO CAMPAIGN

A campaign to convince weight-conscious housewives that potatoes are not fattening is planned by the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers' Association.

The organization met in Harrisburg to discuss ways of increasing consumption of the vegetable so that markets can be found for the state's surplus.

"Pennsylvania should be made aware of the fact that properly prepared potatoes are not fattening and they should be aided in learning the many different ways to prepare potatoes," the Association said.

Warren county this year will undoubtedly have the biggest visitation of big game hunters in history. The Chamber of Commerce with the Warren County Field and Stream Club has listed rooms for 474 men. Next year they hope to have provision for close to 1,000 guests. The movement is small now, but if private capital is interested in building cabins and cottages for summer visitors and hunters it can become the outstanding thing in the county.

Adjutant and Mrs. Arthur Brandenburg in leaving Warren carry with them the love and respect of the townspeople. They have done a wonderful job with the Salvation Army here and have given the work a decided impetus. Their friends bespeak for them a loyal reception in their new field of endeavor and extend the best of wishes for continued success.

What a wonderful thing a floodlight shedding its rays on the space along where persons board the Pullman cars at the Pennsylvania station would be. And how old John Q. Public would appreciate it.

With Christmas just around the corner the committees in charge of the Christmas parade is hard at work to make the affair an immense success.

Last minute reminder: It isn't too late to get to the polls and cast your ballot in the first peace-time election in over four years.

It all depends on the outcome whether it was Democratic or Republican weather.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

by Jack Stinnett

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

WASHINGTON—Regardless of what happens from now on in the career of President Truman, one preface can always be written: He's as American as apple pie a la mode.

There's a story (that may or may not be true) that soon after he took office, a former Senate colleague asked: "Well, Harry, now that you're President of the United States, how are you going to behave?"

The new Chief of State didn't hesitate, but brushed it off as if it were a foolish question, with: "Why, just the same as when I was judge out in Jackson county."

As our soldiers have spread over the face of the globe, the lines most frequently written about them had to do with their "friendliness."

I doubt if there ever has been a President who has carried that American trait so wholeheartedly into the White House.

POLITICS, handshaking and baby-kissing are supposed to be just like cheese, rye bread and beer. But with President Truman, it's not politics; it's second nature. He likes people and he wants people to like him. In spite of the fact that there have been no official receptions since he has taken office, I'm quite sure that no President has ever shaken so many hands in so short a time.

Walk into his office for an appointment or an interview and he's on his feet immediately, hand out the chairs, and when you leave, he will walk to the door, one arm around your shoulder, pumping with the other a farewell handshake.

President Truman is a lodge man, too. Many politicians use the fraternal orders as rungs in the ladder to election. The President belongs because he's a born believer. The fact that he is (if I've been told rightly) the only 33rd degree Mason ever to occupy the White House isn't important—the fact that he has an almost youthful loyalty to every organization he has ever belonged to is important.

When he wrote a number of letters urging members of the reserve officers' association to turn out for the Adm. Nimitz banquet, he signed them all "Col. Harry S. Truman." Skeptics may snort but it would be interesting to get a poll of how many reserve officers' association colonels would pass up the opportunity of signing a letter to their buddies "President of the United States."

THE President's detractors already have accused him of politics in going back to his old barber to get his hair cut; of buying socks and shirts from his old partner in the haberdasher business. With all the other things on his mind, President Truman couldn't stop to weigh half the similar things he has done in the light of political repercussions. If he had, he would have skipped a number of them.

He likes to make snap decisions and use "common sense" in making them. President Truman may get more cautious as time goes by, but up to now, there have been few public figures who ever have spent less time "beating about the bush."

Soap is scarce. Save even the smallest scraps. Place them in the packets of one of those new sponges which are excellent for washing woodwork, tubs, sinks and dishes.

Three of every four Mexicans work on the land.

In 1925

Dr. L. E. Chapman, after one of the most bitter political fights ever waged here, nosed out Mr. Greenlund for the burgess' seat by a vote of 2,199 to 2,187. James M. Miller was elected tax collector.

Workmen have completed the laying of new linoleum in the Mulden Drug Store. The new floor, in black and white blocks, resembles genuine marble.

Norman L. Retterer, of North Warren, is the first hunter to report a limit bag of ringneck pheasants. Retterer also added five rabbits and one grouse to his catch.

The Finley brothers, Much Johnson, Myron Jewell, Lyle Ash, and Leaf Brown have started the first Nameless Five practices. This team will enter the N. Y.-Penn League this season.

In 1935

L. C. Jamieson, secretary of the Warren Airways, Inc., appeared before the borough council and recommended that it make an attempt to secure federal aid for an all-weather landing field here.

Mrs. Michael Brady, Youngsville, wife of county commissioner Brady, and Mrs. M. A. Jackson, a doctor, were seriously injured when their car smashed into a gasoline truck near Titusville.

Dr. Samuel Grafflin, of White Plains, N. Y., and for years a prominent YMCA leader, is speaking at various meetings here through efforts of the Rotary Club.

Hank Marino, national match game bowling champion, will give an exhibition at the Arcade Alleys. Besides exhibiting, Marino will instruct beginners.

Subscribers to Western Pennsylvania's Blue Cross Plan, the Hospital Service Association of Pittsburgh, who are hospitalized out of Western Pennsylvania may receive the full hospital services guaranteed by the plan of which the hospital they are in is a member, Abraham Oseroff, vice-president of the association said today.

The Hospital Service Association, one of 33 Blue Cross Plans across the country which have already agreed on full reciprocity of benefits. Other Blue Cross Plans are expected to enter the agreement soon.

In the past, participants in Blue Cross Plans have received the hospital services offered by their own plan, they have received a per diem payment to apply against the hospital bill instead of guaranteed hospital service.

Under the new Reciprocity agreement, a Hospital Service Association of Pittsburgh subscriber, for instance, who found it necessary to go to the hospital in Florida, would receive all the hospital services offered by the Florida Blue Cross Plan, just as though he were a member of that plan. A Florida Blue Cross Plan subscriber would receive the benefits of the Pittsburgh Plan if he were hospitalized in any of the 29 counties in Western Pennsylvania.

All Blue Cross Plans are non-profit and sponsored by the hospitals. There are now 19,000,000 members in the United States, Canada, and Porto Rico. Over 3200 hospitals are member hospitals.

In western Pennsylvania, there are 820,000 Blue Cross partici-

"GREATEST FORD EVER BUILT"

Says Public from Coast to Coast!

"How Soon?" and "How Much?" Ask Throngs in Dealer Showrooms

On October 26 the new Fords for 1946 went on display in dealer showrooms the country over. In city after city, town after town, dealers reported that the crowds who came to view these fine new automobiles equalled those who greeted the introduction of the famous Ford Model "A" back in 1927—when showroom attendance passed the 10,000,000 mark.

The opening day throngs were matched by those who came Saturday and later. And their opinion has been unanimous. The words most frequently heard have been "The Greatest Ford Ever Built". They backed up their acclaim with orders—326,840 on "V-8 Day," October 26—and Saturday, October 27.

This advertisement is published to record

"There's a Ford in Your Future" FORD MOTOR COMPANY

the deep gratification of the entire Ford organization at this splendid public reception . . . and to answer, as directly as we possibly can, the two questions most often asked.

"How Soon Can I Get My New Ford?" We sincerely believe the answer is: "Sooner than you think!" And here's why—Ford, first with assembly line production of postwar cars, first to stock dealers for a nationwide display, is first in quantity production—1,000 units a day reached last week . . . 2,000 a day in prospect within 30 days.

"How Much Will My New Ford Cost?" We think the answer to this is found in Ford's unvarying policy through more than 40 years of operation; always the highest quality at the lowest possible cost.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET SEEN THE NEW FORDS: All our dealers have them on display. Please make it a point to see if you, too, don't agree that these are the "Greatest Fords Ever Built".

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

"The American public knows that we cannot . . . maintain our national economy at the high levels required . . . if we cannot have productive peace instead of disruptive war on the industrial front." So Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan wrote to Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach last summer. This letter is credited with having crystallized, for the Secretary and President Truman, the plan to call the National Labor-Management Conference.

"Responsible management knows," Senator Vandenberg also wrote, "that free collective bargaining is here to stay and that progressive law must continue to support it and that it must be accepted." Also—

"Responsible labor leadership knows that irresponsible strikes and subversive attacks upon essential production are the gravest threats to the permanent success of Labor's Bill of Rights."

Illustrated above are the guiding ideals behind the National Labor-Management Conference in Washington, where representatives of both sides, meeting in the democratic tradition of the conference table, seek to establish long-term policies aimed at bettering human relationships in industry.

His thought was that though modern methods of travel have brought the world in America's back yard, we will not be a real world community in the best sense without the practice of Christian ideals.

Mrs. M. H. Sellin and committee served an appropriate luncheon. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Samuel Davis of Erie, wife of a former pastor, Mrs. S. N. Penicost of Cleveland. These with Mrs. Chitester spoke briefly of other societies of W.S.C.S. which they had attended.

Want Similar Group

Bradford young people, who have hopes of perfecting in their community a group similar to the Warren PAK, came here in large numbers on Sunday night to attend the Church of Tomorrow service in the First Presbyterian church. The 41 present from Bradford, including eight adult leaders, provided a sizeable showing in the total attendance of 125. Special guests were Leland Daye and Allen Woodruff, home on furlough; Beth Smith, from Indiana State Teachers College, and Ruth Eaton, back from Buffalo for the weekend. Dr. H. C. Warren preached a fine sermon on "20th Century Heroes" for the service which followed an early dinner served at prettily decorated tables by the May R. Stone Class. Mrs. Robert Beatty directed the PAK choir in three lovely numbers, and Richard Kerr, PAK member, was at the organ. After the service, an informal reception was held in the church parlors, Mrs. Warren R. Carlin, Woman's Aid president, assisting in welcoming the guests. The room had been decorated by PAK members with fall flowers to provide an attractive setting for the party.

This evening at 6:10, PAK's Club "17" will have its second fall meeting in Trinity parish house, Mrs. Palmer Davis and her committee to serve supper provided by D. W. Lewis and dancing to follow a program of entertainment. Serving as committee are Don White, Dale Holcomb, Rachel Smith and Bill Taylor.

In prospect for the full PAK membership is a dinner-dance set tentatively for November 23, when the guest speaker will be Chauncey E. Davis, former boys' work secretary at the local YMCA and now general secretary of the Hazleton YMCA.

Chapter 21

THE two days at the farm passed swiftly for Anne. She went with her father to milk and she knew he wanted her to do and helped to separate it afterwards. As she worked with her mother about the house they talked endlessly as women will. Anne told her mother something of her life in town while Mrs. Winslow related the news of the community. On Saturday afternoon she drove with her parents into Brownsville to leave the cream at a big dairy and to do a bit of marketing. They drove home through the late afternoon sunshine.

The old house sprawled on the side of the hill was in a perfect avalanche of blossoms. The snow-balls hung white and heavy from long branches. A clump of bridal wreath by the front gate was the great white drift against the new green of a crimson-starved burning bush, while over it all trailed the perfume-laden honeysuckle which covered the front porch and hung its blossoms across all the fences. The air was heavy with its sweetness.

On Sunday morning they went to the little country church where Anne had worshipped as a child. Her old friends gathered around to greet her, genuinely glad to see her again. Miss Talbot, who had been her fourth grade teacher; Uncle Chad Alloway; Louella and Jim Radcliffe, her schoolmates. The old minister, the Rev. and Conover, long her friend and confidant, smiled at her over the top of his big old Bible. All the older people were here, but the young men and many of the girls had left vacant places behind them.

The muted intonations of the old organ lifted a grand old hymn. Anne joined in singing "Faith of Our Fathers." She put a fervency into the words she had never felt before.

Then old Mr. Conover opened

Chapter 22

"GET your hat and let's get out of here!" Wayne cried.

Anne laughed. "I didn't wear a hat."

Anne was conscious of the envious eyes of the other girls upon her. She was tingling from head to foot with excitement. Mr. Farham appeared in the doorway to greet Wayne's hand.

"It's good to see you, Wayne. You're looking splendid. So this is way you discovered my orders and came back to town today, Anne?" he smiled.

"No—upon my word, Mr. Farham, I didn't know he was coming. It must have been fate that brought me back!"

"I didn't let anybody know I was going to get this leave," Wayne explained. "I didn't want any—er—visitors, and I didn't want anything to go wrong. Uncle Nathan, I hope you don't mind—but you're going to do without a secretary today."

Mr. Farham shrugged. "Inasmuch as I didn't expect her back anyway, I'll try to get along."

"Where have you been, anyway?" Wayne wanted to know.

"Home to visit my mother and father!"

"That was a heck of a thing to do! Suppose you hadn't been here when I needed you?"

"But I am here!"

THEY went straight to a jewelry store where they picked out a diamond-studded wedding ring. Wayne really did the picking. Anne agreeing to everything he suggested. She thought, "I've never been so completely happy not even during the first few days of our engagement! The feeling of desolation she had known coming home on the bus last night was entirely gone now."

Wayne said, "We'll really step out tonight, little darling. And tomorrow will really be the day—at last. You get on your prettiest evening frock. What I mean to tell you, lady, is we're really going places!"

As Anne came in the front door of Mrs. Adams' house the telephone was ringing. Not seeing his big Bible, adjusted his spectacles and read: "Why is thy countenance sad, seeing that thou art not sorrowful? This is nothing else but sorrow of heart. But hold, we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast. . . . Be of good courage, and He shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord."

"The people hung breathlessly on the matelass words, drawing from them the substance so rarely needed to meet the trials of their days. Anne herself, felt immeasurably still and comforted. She realized for the first time that she had been living in a veritable turmoil of events—the hectic days of Wayne's wooing and departure, her turbulent friendship with John Lowell, culminating in that afternoon on the stairway—Eve's tragedy. Each episode had drawn upon her vitality, until she felt drained of emotion. Now she rested under the quieting influence of the old minister's words, glad that she had come. She had needed to be reminded of that hope of which he had spoken and the strength that was available through that hope. She was to have occasion to seek solace from those words, and others like them, often in the days ahead."

She decided to go back to town Sunday night and be ready for work again Monday morning. Even though Mr. Farham had said she might stay longer, she knew he would be glad to see her as there was a great deal of work to be done in the office.

Her parents, driving her into Brownsville to the bus, were respectful of her snooty stay. "We've hardly started on all the things we have to talk about," her mother said. "I know I'll think of a thousand things I wanted to tell you."

Anne smiled. "So will I, but we'll have to write long letters, won't we? I feel that I must get back, mother."

"If you've got a good job, you need to be faithful to it," her father put in. "But you must always remember, Anne, if you get tired of it you know where you can come."

She squeezed his hand. "Thanks, father, I'll remember."

As the bus pulled out she waved to them, standing on the platform side by side. Thus they had ever stood throughout her life—time—dear and dependable and together! Her eyes blurred as they passed from view. She thought of herself and Wayne standing side by side like that through all the days that lay beyond to come. Would they somehow survive the stability of concrete, the sturdy strength that would make them to become a bulwark of dependence for their own children?

Goodness! She had certainly been plunged into a serious mood. It was seeing all those empty places at church, the gold stars, and the haunting fear in her mother's eyes. She wished that she might be permitted to do something very gay and reckless!

"I believe, living alone isn't good for me," she mused as the bus sped by. "I sat too long into the habit of taking myself apart. With too much time alone, things get out of perspective. I need someone terribly gay about me to counteract the tendency I seem to have lately to brood. Tomorrow I think I'll put an advertisement in the paper for a room-mate. And I won't accept anyone who isn't a nit-wit with a sense of humor that will give me a good laugh once in a while!"

On her way to her office next morning she stopped by the office of the Evening Recorder and left her ad. It gave her a little feeling of excitement to look forward to a new association.

But all such thoughts were soon wiped from her mind for about mid-morning the doorway of the office was flung open as if a whirlwind were about to enter—and there stood Wayne McDowell grinning at her, his eyes shining with delight at sight of her!

When she had put it on with her silver slippers and a band of silver rosebuds in her hair, she realized that she had never looked lovelier. Her honey-colored hair curled lovingly around her flushed face and her gray eyes shone with happiness. When she heard Wayne's ring at the door she caught up a light wrap and ran down to meet him. He stepped inside, caught his breath at sight of her and kissed her until she was breathless. Then they went down the pathway bordered by box hedges hand in hand.

When they reached Wayne's car parked at the curb, Anne drew back in shocked surprise. Carol King, gorgeous in a flame-colored gown, leaned out to greet her.

"Hello, Anne," she said, her beautiful mouth smiling serenely. "I persuaded Wayne it was selfish of him to keep himself away from his friends. So Jimmy and I came along. Anne Winslow, this is Jimmy Foster!"

Anne barely looked at the boy by Carol's side. She was trembling with anger and disappointment. Wayne was wearing an unattractive expression—one that she had come to recognize that he wore when he considered himself the victim of circumstances. She caught her lip savagely between her teeth as within her there was born the determination to let nothing—not even Carol King's pouting—spoil this evening.

"I'm sure it's quite all right for you to come along if Wayne thinks so, Carol," she said charmingly. "But I hope you won't mind if we don't pay too much attention to you and Jimmy. Shall we go, Wayne, darling?"

ANNE felt quite pleased with herself. "What Wayne needs is for me to make decisions for him, I guess," she thought. "And from now on, I'm going to do it, too." And she sat shamelessly close to him, her head all but on his shoulder. When they got out of the car Carol gave her a look of pure venom. But Anne tossed her head and slid her hand through Wayne's arm. There was no way of daunting her tonight.

Make Sure it's Gas

When you make a substantial investment in a new kitchen range, you will want to be sure you are making no mistake. You'll expect to use the range for years and count on it to give you the most satisfactory service for the very important job of preparing the family meals. So, choose a modern Gas range, and you will contribute much to contentment in the kitchen.

Ask yourself "Why do more American homes cook with Gas than with any other fuel?" Then consider why homes that have a choice of two or more sources of heat in the kitchen, prefer Gas!

The reasons are sound: the modern Gas range is the best cooking appliance ever invented. It is efficient, producing the finest, most nutritious meals, quickly, with least effort. It is most economical, cooking an average family's meals in this area for about one dollar a month.

With the modern Gas range you will get exact cooking temperatures and precise automatic control. You are not stuck with mere "on," "off," or "in-between" temperature controls.

Gas is dependable—no breakdowns at embarrassing moments. And when you add the cleanliness of Gas and its contribution to cooler kitchens, you are assuring yourself years of cooking pleasure, when you choose a modern Gas range.

Remember more housewives cook with Gas than with any other fuel. That endorsement, from such an experienced group of cooks, is the highest tribute to Gas.

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built—it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's

12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all—in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942.

The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks.

In fact—the best Buicks yet!

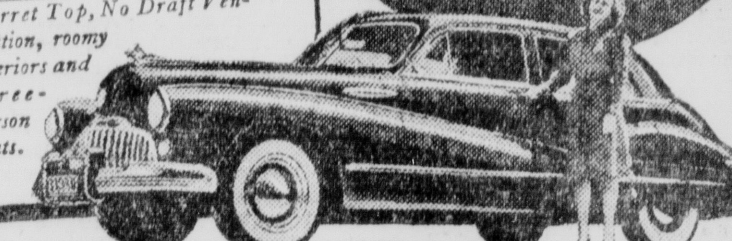

What other car has so much that clicks for Forty-Six!

POWER—from a Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine that gets peak return from every drop of fuel.
HIGH STYLE—of car-length Airfoil fenders with bolt-on rear wheel shields.
OIL SAVINGS—from non-scurfing Accurate cylinder bores.
FLASHING ACTION—of light, lively Fliteweight pistons.
STEADINESS—from full-length torque-tube drive in a sealed chassis.

GLIDING RIDE—from Panther-gait all-coil springing with only a comfort job to do.
COMFORT—of soft Foamtex cushions with luxury-type springs.
SURE FOOTING—of Broadrim wheels; maximum tire mileage, no heel-over on curves, and better car control.
CONTROL—through Permi-form steering which eliminates need for frequent adjustments.

CONVENIENCE—of high-leverage Step-On parking brake that sets with a toe-touch and holds fast.
PROTECTION—of buttressed front and rear bumpers, curved to shield fenders, built for new bumper jack.
SMARTNESS—of genuine Body by Fisher with one-piece Turret Top, No Draft Ventilation, roomy interiors and three-person seats.

Shaughnessy Asks Critics' Help in Pitt Game Saturday

By ELAINE KAHN
Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—Clark Shaughnessy today turned the tables on the critics who usually tell him what should have been done last week by asking them what Pitt Panthers ought to do against Ohio State Saturday.

The University of Pittsburgh grid coach popped the question at a weekly luncheon of broadcasters and sports writers.

Criticized for taking two many chances in Pitt's 39-9 loss to Notre Dame and not enough in the 6-0 defeat by Temple, Shaughnessy told the newsmen:

"I need your help. You tell me what to do. Shall we play a conservative game—hold down the score and play to look good—or shall we gamble, depending on a freak chance to win but losing by a big score if we fail?"

The answers were varied. "Play to make the best showing," said sports editor Harry Keck of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Ex-baseball manager Pie Traynor, now a sports broadcaster, voted to gamble.

"If you're going to get beaten, anyway," said Traynor, "you may as well shoot the works and use every boy on the squad."

Some of the newsmen wanted more information from the "T" formation expert and Shaughnessy obliged with a brief quarter-back lesson.

"Suppose it's third down, six to go on our own 25. What would you do?" he asked.

"That's gambling," Shaughnessy pointed out. "I think it's stupid to try to gain. The other team expects a punt on the fourth down. Any time you wait until last down to punt you invite disaster because the entire opposing team is intent on blocking the kick."

The Pitt coach then asked whether his five-times beaten team should elect to kick or receive.

Kicking is safer, said the newsmen.

"It's a gamble," contradicted Shaughnessy. "We kicked to Notre Dame and they ran the ball back to the midfield stripe."

The session ended in a draw.

Newsreels Of Finish Show Score Failed

New York, Nov. 6.—(P)—Newsreel pictures of the windup of last Saturday's Notre Dame-Navy game have convinced Notre Dame publicity man Walter Kennedy and New York sports writers that the Irish failed to score on the now famous pass play from Frank Dancevic to Phil Colella.

In addition, the films taken by two newsreel companies and shown to football writers at their weekly football luncheon yesterday, showed clearly that Dance-

Moose Lodges Urged To Get Back To Sports

Since the war is over, a call has gone out to the Moose lodges of which there are more than 1500 in the United States and the Dominion of Canada, to "get back to sports." In an article appearing in the November Moose Magazine, by the manager of the supply department at Mooseheart, James V. Thompson, an authority on sports, the author draws attention to the importance of sports in the life of a Moose lodge.

"Let it not be said by you that your lodge is too small to conduct a successful sports program," he writes, "nor let any Moose member feel that his individual participation in such activities—either as a player, or a committee member—is not wanted, indeed, or welcomed. No lodge is too small in numerical strength to be without some form of sports life, even though it be but one bowling team of five men bowling on a commercial alley."

Mr. Thomson goes on to show that Moose lodges have long been noted for the attention which they give to sports. They are active nationally in bowling tournaments, state golf matches, soft and hard ball intra-lodge games, horseshoe pitching, volleyball, basketball, and baseball. Moose lodges sponsor polo teams, rifle ranges and hunting lodges. Indeed, practically every competitive sport on the calendar is successfully being conducted by Moose lodges.

The writer concludes his article by drawing attention to the high position that sports hold in the Moose child city of Mooseheart, Illinois—the famous academic and trade school and home for dependent children of deceased members of the Order. "The football teams of the Moose child city, alone, bring to it each season publicity that is priceless," he points out. "As a builder of character, our boys and girls learn to 'play the game' according to the rules—vital training in playing the far, far larger game of life. And to the lodge, sports impress upon the members the true significance of the words which have become the Moose slogan, 'One for all, and all for one!'"

Sailors Drop In Poll; Army, Irish On Top

By MURRAY ROSE

New York, Nov. 6.—(P)—Alabama's big Red Elephants and St. Mary's fleet teen-agers have zoomed into higher positions in the ratings of the first 10 college football eleven's as the result of their latest impressive triumphs.

Alabama, fourth a week ago and almost a cinch to maintain their unbeaten and untied record, jumped into third ahead of Navy following the Crimson Tide's 60-19 massacre of Kentucky and the Tars' second narrow squeak in a row, a 6-6 tie with Notre Dame.

The Gaels from California proved their class Saturday in walloping Southern California 26-0 and sports writers the country over, voting in the Associated Press' weekly poll, showered enough ballots on Jimmy Phelan's gridders to boost them into fifth place. The all-conquering Gaels were rated eighth last week.

Army and Notre Dame still ran one-two in the balloting, but the Irish had a narrow edge over Alabama.

Of the 101 votes cast, Army received 86 first place nominations and 982 points, based on ten for first, nine for second, etc. Notre Dame collected three top votes and 804 points, while Alabama garnered four first placers and 799 points. Navy got three first place votes and 702 points. St. Mary's was honored with two top bids and 486 points and sixth place Indiana was the recipient of the three other No. 1 votes and 445 points. The rest of the top ten was made up of Michigan (345), Ohio State (280), Pennsylvania (218) and Columbia (167) in order.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 6.—(P)—Last word of Saturday's Notre Dame-Navy tussle is voiced by Steve Owen: "Well, it was a photo finish." There wasn't much doubt in the minds of the scribes who saw the slow-motion films yesterday that the Irish had failed to score. Both on the disputed pass play and the two shots at the line which followed it. And that Notre Dame's Frank Dancevic busted the rules all to pieces on the final play by trying to shove Halfback Teddy Brennan through the pack of Navy linemen.

Dick Sisler, son of the celebrated

It's a good bet that you'll find George, playing first base for the other club. Dick, now being separated from the navy, is an outfielder by trade, but the word is that the Cards will send him south for training at a new position during the winter. Admiral William D. Leahy will sit on the Wisconsin side of the field when Navy plays the Badgers on Nov. 17. Leahy greys up in Ashland, Wis., and is an honorary alumnus of the university. Bill Werber, Jr., 14-year-old son of the old American League base stealing champ, finished second in the 300-yard run at the recent Mercersburg (Pa.) Academy field day.

Survivors of Sea Tragedy In Hospital

Honolulu, Nov. 6.—(A)—Eight survivors of an Army Transport Command plane's forced landing at sea were in an army hospital here today under treatment for injuries.

One of the survivors said that the body of an unidentified WAC was among seven corpses brought here from the wreckage. Search continued for 11 persons still missing. Planes and navy surface vessels scouted the area 460 miles northeast of Oahu, where the Liberator-type transport and its 21 passengers and five crewmen met disaster Saturday en route to the mainland from Honolulu.

The escort carrier Casablanca brought the eight survivors and seven bodies to Honolulu. Members of a special army board of inquiry immediately cautioned the survivors against discussing details of their experience.

Big cargo planes will fly household goods, 5,000 or 6,000 pounds at a time between Pittsburgh and points in the U. S. and Alaska, the company announced.

The company, which operates a fleet of 40 trucks and special service cars in 27 states, said the plane rates will be about 10 per cent higher than truck costs.

JAP FINANCIAL FAMILIES ARE LIQUIDATED

Gen. MacArthur Issues
Most Drastic of All Orders
Against Individuals and Corporations

OTHERS ARE ON LIST

By MURLIN SPENCER
Tokyo, Nov. 6.—(P)—General MacArthur today smashed Japan's four greatest financial and industrial families and gave notice of his intentions to break up all such combines to "aid Japanese economic development" along peaceful, democratic lines.

The Japanese government was ordered immediately to prepare to dissolve Mitsu, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo and Yasuda and their holding companies and to eliminate their controls of Japanese finances and industries.

MacArthur further told the government to set up a holding company liquidation association to direct the dissolution under indirect Allied control and warned that all policies and personnel must have his approval.

Along with the directive aimed at the great Zaibatsu interests with their ramifications, which spread throughout the world before the war, the supreme Allied commander said he intended to smash all such combines so as to permit "wider distribution of income and ownership of the means of production and trade in Japan and to aid the Japanese economic development along peaceful, democratic lines."

The government also was directed to take immediate steps to "terminate and prohibit Japanese participation in private international cartels or other restrictive private international contracts or arrangements."

The sweeping order—the most drastic of all against individuals or corporations yet issued by MacArthur—means the complete reformation of Japan's business life of the big four families—Yasuda, Mitsu and Sumitomo, whose companies bear their names and Iwasaki, which controls the Mitsubishi interests.

"The way has now been cleared for the first time in Japanese history for the Japanese people to achieve economic freedom," MacArthur said.

Pullman Hearing
Enters Second Day

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—(P)—Thurman Arnold, counsel for Otis & Co., yesterday resumed the Pullman hearing in the U. S. District Court. The Pullman Company, attempted to show today that another petitioner, The Standard Steel Spring Co., of Coraopolis, Pa., was trying to satisfy the railroad over whose lines most of the sleeping cars operate.

At the opening of the second day's hearing in U. S. District Court on the petitions of three independent firms and a group of 22 railroads, Arnold asked Robert C. Enos, president of Standard Steel, if he was aware that the Union Trust Company and the Bankers Trust Company, which finance the business of Standard Steel, also do business with persons interested in the Pullman Company and the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

Arnold asked Enos if he knew that Richard Mellon, a director of Union Trust, was also a large Pullman stockholder; that William F. Rockwell, chairman of the board of Standard Steel, was associated with the Pittsburgh Equitable Meter Company; that George Whitney, director of the J. Morgan Company, was also a director of New York Central railroad; that Elmer Walker, member of "the Mellon group," was a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Enos was aware of some of these associations but flatly denied that he had "explored these interests."

Priest Tells of Starvation And Torture By Japanese Troops

By JAMES HALSELMA

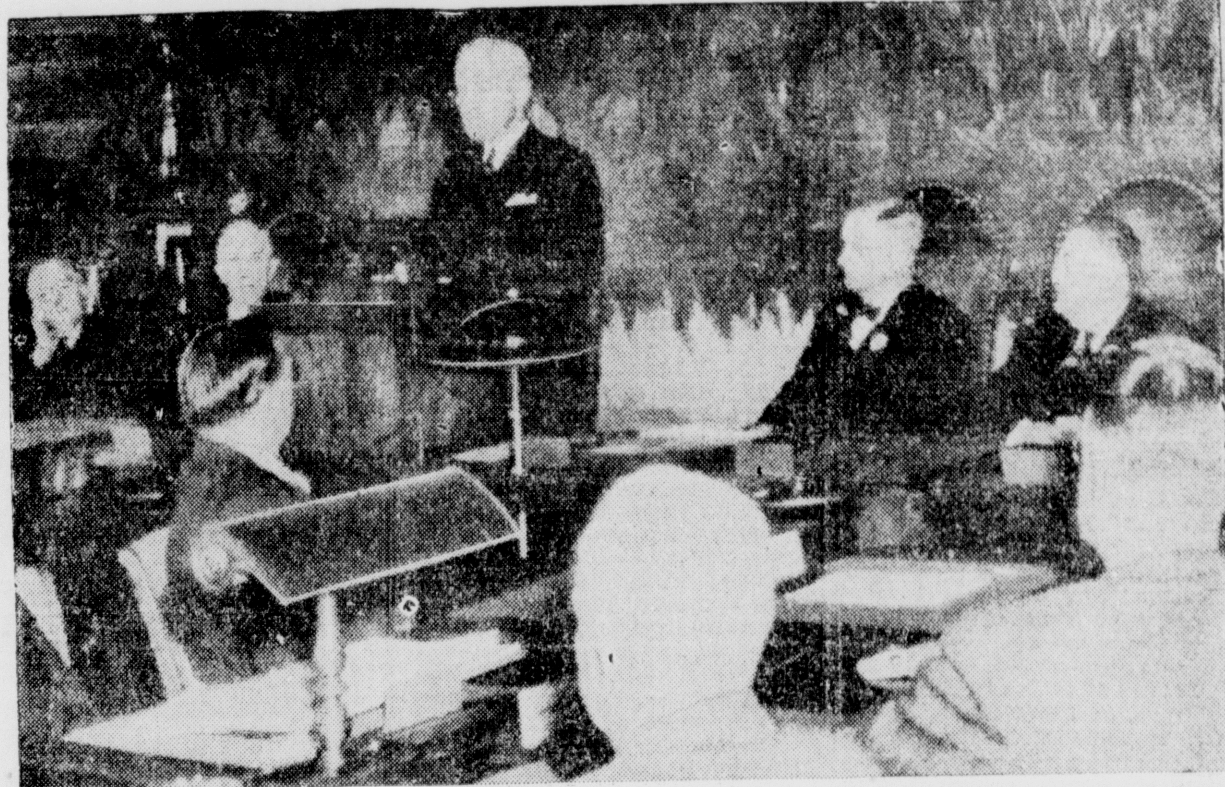

Manila, Nov. 6.—(P)—A Spanish priest and a Filipino laborer testified at the war criminal trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, recounted today the starvation, torture and massacre of 6,000 Filipino and Chinese civilians by Japanese troops before the fall of Manila last spring.

Father Belarmino Decelis of the Spanish Augustinian Order, said that last February 5 the Japanese jammed the 6,000 civilians into the ancient church of St. Augustine, oldest building in Manila.

The men were thrown into the dungeons which served the Spanish 17 years ago. Women and children, he said, were kept without food in the church compound until they were so hungry they ate the grass and roots of the patio gardens.

On February 9, the men were

Dedicates Nov. 11
Day For Meditation

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—President Truman today proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day and called upon the people to observe it by dedicating themselves to the cause of enduring peace.

He asked the people to recall the "valor and sacrifices" of those Americans who brought victory in 1918, and urged them to devote themselves to the building of an enduring peace among the countries of the world.

Government offices will be closed Monday, Nov. 12. A recent executive order provided for government holidays on the Mondays following national holidays that fall on Sunday.

First Elected
Legislature In France Meets

By ROBERT M. WILSON

Paris, Nov. 6.—(P)—The first elected French legislature in five years convened today, charged by the electorate with the task of replacing the 1875 constitution with a foundation of constitutional law upon which the Fourth Republic of France will be constructed.

The first official act of the assembly will be the formal acceptance of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's wartime government.

Under the procedure previously laid down, the assembly will request de Gaulle to continue a caretaker government until later in the week, when the delegates select a president of the provisional government. There seemed little doubt that de Gaulle would serve as president in the seventh-month period allotted the assembly for creation of a constitution to be submitted to a people's referendum.

The tall general who led France's fight for liberation will be present when the delegates sit for the first time in the red plush seats of the chamber of deputies in the Palais du Bourbon.

By custom the assembly's oldest member sits in the president's seat to supervise the parliamentary organization. This time he is 81-year-old Paul Couteau, delegate from Algeria, who was given the task of reading a letter from de Gaulle asserting that the tenure of the wartime government had ended and that its president was relinquishing his extraordinary wartime powers.

The 536 members constituent assembly is not yet complete. Some must yet be chosen in run-off elections in the colonies, which have a total of 64 delegates.

The communists, who won 152 seats in France alone, will have the greatest representation of any single party.

Much - Discussed Armistice
Terms With Italy Revealed

By GRAHAM HOOVER

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—The Allies made public the much-discussed Italian armistice today, spiking some old rumors but failing to clear up entirely why the terms were kept secret for 26 months.

Released simultaneously in Washington, London and Rome, the armistice and related documents—totaling some 10,000 words—disclosed that:

1. Exhaustive unconditional surrender terms—officially still in effect—were imposed on Italy.
2. In practice, however, the Allies never invoked some provisions and modified others substantially at frequent intervals.
3. The terms provided for no territory or property.

Thus, the old rumor that the armistice gave the British a virtual stranglehold on Italian port cities for an extended postwar period was proved groundless. So were many other reports which had been bandied about—not without effect on the Italians—during the two years of Allied silence about the terms.

Then why the secrecy? Government officials explained it to reporters this way:

The state department and British foreign office had discussed publication of the terms as early as December, 1943.

At that time, Allied military officials objected. They said the Germans and Mussolini's Fascist government in northern Italy could make good propaganda use of the armistice terms, especially among the pro-Allied partisan fighters.

The subject was brought up several times subsequently, but the original military viewpoint prevailed virtually until V-E Day.

Reminded by newsmen that almost half a year had elapsed since V-E Day, the officials, specifying they were not to be identified further, said the British and Meadville, Nov. 6.—(P)—Removal of German prisoners of war from the Malleable Iron Works plant Nov. 1 was indirectly responsible for a partial closing of the plant yesterday, a labor leader declared.

"Until Kurt, president of Local 1917, United Steelworkers, said molders were asked to pour their own molds, a task formerly by the POWs. The men refused, Kurt said, and some 45 to 60 of them were sent home. Later, a number of coremakers also were furloughed because there was no work for them."

Kurt said the new work would

Must Hike Costs If Wages Are Raised

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—Chairman E. T. Weir of the National Steel Corporation said today the steel industry cannot increase workers' wages unless the full cost is covered by an advance in prices of steel products.

It was Weir who in 1941 set the pace for steel wage increases by surprising the rest of the industry with a 10 per cent raise while representatives of major steel companies and union officials were in the midst of contract negotiations.

Weir declared in an interview that if increases even considerably lower than the $2 a day hike demanded by the CIO-United Steelworkers were granted without price advances it would put the entire industry in the red and force elimination of dividends to stockholders.

Commenting that the number of stockholders almost equals the number of employees in the basic steel industry and for many years exceeded the number of workers, he said "the stockholders are deserving of consideration, too."

Strike Halts
Capital Buses
And Trolleys

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Thousands of Washingtonians hitch-hiked or walked to work today after Capital Transit Company drivers left their jobs early this morning.

Many office-bound workers begged for spots in Washington's ever-crowded cabs. Others were just stranded.

A company official, who said the buses and street cars carry 1,500,000 fares a day, declared the trip was complete.

The trip developed suddenly and most of the citizenry had no inkling of the impending stoppage when they went to bed last night.

Members of the AFL union met in a burlesque house at midnight to discuss demands for increased wages. They decided to continue the all night meeting on into the day, thus leaving the public service vehicles unmanned.

Since there was no forewarning that a stoppage was imminent, many persons stood patiently at bus and street car stops during the morning, unaware that they no longer were operating.

Cancellation Service Director Edgar L. Warren assigned Commissioner Richard W. Goodrick to the Transit dispute.

The hitch-hiking business was brisk. Hardest hurt were the residents of Washington's large war housing centers. It's often quite a tussle to get to work from these even when service is normal.

The union claims as members 4,000 of the company's 4,700 workers.

Files Sought On
Churchill Letters

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Two members said today the Pearl Harbor investigating committee has called specifically for the files of the late President Roosevelt's correspondence with former Prime Minister Churchill.

They said the request was made in a letter signed by William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, and that it also listed other subjects.

These members, asking not to be identified by name, told a reporter the items wanted were listed specifically because of the physical problem involved in searching the voluminous White House files made available to the committee.

Mitchell's letter, they said, asked for any existing Roosevelt-Churchill correspondence on the Atlantic charter. The charter was publicized Aug. 14, 1941, nearly four months before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Some committee members have said privately they want to know if there was any exchange between the two leaders about the possible involvement of this country in the war.

DRIVERS FOR PACKING
FIRMS PLAN STRIKE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—AFL Drivers at five local branches of large meat-packing firms have voted to strike, the National Labor Relations Board announced today.

Frank M. Keller, regional NLRB director, said the votes were cast by employees of Swift and Co., Wilson and Co., Armour and Co., Braddock and Pittsburgh plants, and Cudahy Packing Co., Braddock and McKeesport plants. Nearly 50 workers are involved.

The local at the St. Louis Independent Packing Co., with five drivers, voted not to strike.

Mine Workers' Chief Obtains Delay in Action on Creation of Important Executive Committee

OLD ALLY IS THE LOSE

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—A hot exchange between mine union leader John L. Lewis and CIO President Philip Murray today threw the labor-management conference into dispute over Lewis' demand for a bigger role.

Lewis came out of the scrap with a temporary victory by obtaining delay in conference action on creation of an important executive committee pending settlement of a controversy over union representation.

A proposed agenda for the conference called for an eight-member committee, with four places each for labor and management. Labor's votes were to be divided equally between the AFL and CIO. Lewis demanded places on the committee for his United Mine Workers and for the Railroad Brotherhoods.

Murray, one-time ally of Lewis before the UMW leader broke away from the CIO, protested any change in the committee makeup. Murray declared he had heard reports of a "veritable blitz" by Lewis to get on the conference executive committee.

Lewis jumped up and shouted that Murray's words constituted "despicable and unique German terminology."

Gripping a conference table, Lewis roared that "Mr. Lewis doesn't care a tinker's malediction whether he is a member of any committee personally. But the UMW chief made clear he wanted his mine workers represented."

Murray retorted that Lewis, from past acquaintance, knew he never employed "Hitler-like tactics." He added that he was prepared to support all recommendations of the conference rules committee and to give consideration to Lewis' position.

The fracas developed over the rules committee's recommendation that the conference arrange for an eight-member executive committee as proposed.

Lewis succeeded in getting the conference to leave open this question.

AFL President William Green backed Lewis.

ERIE MOTORCYCLIST
KILLED NEAR GIRARD

Erie, Nov. 6.—(P)—Charles A. Schaefer, 17, of North Girard, was fatally injured yesterday in the head-on crash of his motorcycle with an automobile on Route 20, west of Girard.

Coroner Warren W. Wood reported the youth died of a fractured skull in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Earl W. Platz, 17, of Girard, riding on a seat behind Schaefer, escaped with minor bruises.

The coroner said police were holding occupants of the car, Pfc. Daniel K. Drew, 20, Lexington, Mass., and Roy A. Wiltse, 34, Buffalo, N. Y., pending an inquest today.

CRAWFORD HAS TWO
HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Meadville, Nov. 6.—(P)—Two hunters suffered wounds from shotgun pellets in small game hunting accidents yesterday.

David Lloyd, 17, of Centerville Rd. 4, was struck in the head and left shoulder while hunting squirrels.

Mark Decker, Strowville, Ohio, also suffered shot wounds.

Treated in Meadville City hospital, neither were reported seriously injured.

Bitter Fight Fails
To Stir Lancaster

Lancaster, Nov. 6.—(P)—Lancaster citizens went to the polls today to elect a mayor and four councilmen in one of the hottest municipal campaigns in 20 years.

Despite the blistering campaign, the voting was light to medium throughout the city's 33 precincts in the early morning hours. Workers of both the Republican and Democratic parties estimated that about 65 to 75 per cent of the enrolled voters will cast their ballots.

Dr. Dale E. Cary, mayor and the Republican candidate for reelection, is opposed by H. Clay Burkholder, Democrat.

The highspot of the campaign was the charge by Mayor Cary that A. H. Keller, national labor organizer and the man who called a 26-day transportation strike here in September, promised to campaign against him.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTIONS AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press
Polls open at 7 a. m., close at 8 p. m., eastern standard time. Offices at stake:
Two superior court judgeships.
Mayor in Pittsburgh, Scranton and 18 third class cities; other municipal officials.

Some county officials, including judges, in each of 67 counties. Four proposed amendments to the state constitution.
Registration—Republican 2,572,054, Democrat 1,778,204; others combined 55,513; total 4,405,771.
Number of election precincts 8,231, including 1,027 in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) and 1,348 in Philadelphia.

By The Associated Press
Voting was about normal today in the first elections since the end of the war, but Detroit had an extra-large turnout.

Most of the elections were municipal. Politicians, however, eyed each other anxiously for some hint of things to come in the 1946 congressional races—and even the 1948 presidential contest.

The greatest interest seemed to be in Detroit. There the municipal election was warm enough to bring out 122,000 voters by 11 a. m. That's twice as many as the count at the same hour in the last city election.

New York voters were turning out in about normal numbers for an off-year mayor race. At 11:30 a. m., 33 1/3 per cent of the 2,178,908 voters had marked their ballots. Elsewhere the balloting was rated as light or normal.

The weather man gave the voters a break. "Clear and sunny" was his report for almost all of the elections.

By The Associated Press

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Light voting was reported across Pennsylvania today in the commonwealth's first peacetime election since Pearl Harbor.

With the balloting concerned entirely with local contests and local issues, voters gave election boards little to do in the first few hours.

The tempo was expected to increase later in the day, however, especially the last few hours when the polling places are available to workers on the way home.

The weather was warm and clear.

Pittsburgh, with its hot mayoralty fight, reported only light voting in the first few hours. There was a similar situation in Philadelphia, which had only offices of the county-city government at stake.

Two state superior court judgeships were the only contests of state wide nature. Local candidates and issues, in the main, dominated the ballot.

Democratic and Republican leaders, regarding this "off year" election as a testing ground for the 1946 gubernatorial and congressional battles, made last-minute efforts to get out the vote.

Neither of the major parties, however, expected figures to reach the 1944 total of 3,794,787—Democrat, 1,940,479; Republican, 1,835,048; miscellaneous parties, 19,260.

A total of 4,405,771 persons were eligible to vote today. 153,560 less than last year. The figures break down as follows: Democrat 1,778,204; Republican 2,572,054; non-partisan and minor parties combined 55,513.

The contest attracting most interest nationally is the Pittsburgh mayoralty in which Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence is pitted against Robert N. Waddell, Republican. Democrats have been in power in Pittsburgh since 1933.

Five kinds of police officers were ordered to patrol the polls in the smoky city. Both parties have accused each other of raising huge "slush funds" and both have predicted victories.

Scranton and 18 third class cities elected mayors. Scranton Republican Howard J. Snowden sought reelection against Democrat James T. Hanlon.

In Philadelphia, where the state's largest number of voters are concentrated, only row offices and magisterial places were at stake, but both parties expected results to give an inkling of what may come next year.

Interest was attracted to the superior court contests because of (Turn to Page Nine)

Activities Suspended
On Stock Exchanges

New York, Nov. 6.—(P)—Elections in many states brought suspension of activity in various stock and commodity markets today.

All of the major exchanges were closed in New York and with scattered exceptions stock exchanges were closed in other principal cities. The Chicago grain market functioned as usual, but the stock exchange was closed. The New Orleans cotton market operated as usual, as did the various livestock and smaller commodity markets in various sections.

Next Monday, November 12, will bring another general suspension of market activity as the day will be observed as Armistice Day.

Molotov Calls for Allied Control of Japan and Knowledge on Subject of Atomic Energy

SIGNIFICANT SPEECH

London, Nov. 6.—(P)—Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov called for an Allied control of Japan in a Moscow address today and declared "there ought to be no secrecy about the subject of atomic energy."

In a broadcast address opening Russia's observance of the 28th anniversary of the Soviet revolution, Molotov asserted:

"In the treatment of the defeated we should not let ourselves be guided by our feelings, but only by the necessity to prevent a new aggression. This applies to all countries which bear the responsibility for securing peace."

"We must then mention here the force of atomic energy which was experienced in the war with Japan. Nowadays there ought to be no secrecy about this subject."

This was the first time a high Soviet official had suggested that the United States and Great Britain share their practical knowledge of atomic energy as a means of warfare.

Molotov apparently was designated to make the traditional anniversary address in place of Generalissimo Stalin, who has just returned from vacation.

The Soviet minister's version of Molotov's remarks concerning Japan was that the liberation of China was of the greatest importance to the world.

"It is clear that the Soviet Union considers most important the negotiation of control of all the Allies over Japan," he said.

"In this question no satisfactory results have yet emerged, but the importance of satisfactory results is clear to all."

Molotov told a cheering crowd that with victory in war, "now we can return to peacetime labor."

The foreign commissar, deputy chairman of the council of People's Commissars, said the main strongpoints of aggression in west and east had been liquidated.

"When the Germans invaded us they counted on the unexpectedness of their attack," Molotov said.

"Not only Germany, but many others thought the Soviet Union would not hold out long. They thought Hitler would triumph in a few weeks or months. After Hitler's eastern victories this seemed inevitable to many—mainly those who did not understand the character of the Soviet state."

"Germany's attack was also a test for our foreign friends, who watched with bated breath the difficulties of our country."

"The Soviet country withstood the test."

Many Quit Jobs
On Bomb Project

Washington, Nov. 6.—(P)—Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves said today hundreds of workers, key men and scientists are quitting the atomic bomb project because of uncertainty over the future of their jobs.

Questioned about a report to this effect, General Groves, in overall charge of the atomic bomb project, told a reporter he had lost some of his best men, both at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., as well as at Los Alamos, N. Mex. He said field representatives report that in numerous instances departing workers list "uncertainty of the future" as a primary or secondary cause for quitting.

Although Groves would make no estimate of the extent to which this draining off of key workers has cut production, he asserted that there has been considerable slowdown.

Rev. Edward K. Rogers, formerly a chaplain in the Chaplain's Corps, who was attached to the famous 1st Division, will be the speaker at the services in the Library Theatre on Monday.

Members of the auxiliaries of both the American Legion and the V. F. W. will attend and all service men home on leave and all discharged veterans of World War II are given a cordial invitation to be present.

Police Guard
Polling Places
In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—(P)—State, city and county police guarded the polls today as citizens in "the workshop of the world" cast their ballots at the close of an intensely bitter political campaign.

Much of the heat was engendered by the Republican effort to wrest control of the city government from Democrats who have held sway for 12 years. The contest resulted in part from a belief that Pennsylvania, and particularly Pittsburgh, may be pivotal in the 1948 presidential campaign.

The polls opened at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. Six judges sat in common pleas court to handle election disputes. The weather bureau predicted fair and warmer weather.

In the city race, David L. Lawrence, State Democratic Chairman, national committeeman, and former commonwealth secretary under Governor Earle, was his party's candidate to succeed ailing, three-time Mayor Cornelius D. Scully.

Opposing him for the $15,000-a-year post was Republican Robert N. Waddell, insurance man and one-time Carnegie Tech grid-iron coach.

Both sides prophesied victory for their candidates. Charles Wolff, Waddell's manager, said "I predict the whole Republican ticket will be elected." John J. Kane, manager for the Democrats, declared he was confident of Lawrence's triumph "because he led the fight to give the plain people of Pennsylvania a better way of living."

Each side accused the other of having a big "slush fund." Kane said the Republicans had raised a half million dollars; James F. Malone, Allegheny county Republican campaign manager, asserted the Democrats had raised money among county and city employees.

Fine, Sunny Day Marks Parade Of Voters to Place of Balloting

If the voters do not turn out to the polls today it will not be the fault of the weatherman who provided some of the finest sunshine to be found in a host of election days. From early morning when the sun opened the sun has been turned on and the chills of the morning turned to warm, balmy air later in the day.

However, it is anticipated that the voting will be light. Workers of both parties are endeavoring to "get out the vote" but the voters are showing great lethargy in responding. Reports from the rural districts are to the effect that only a few are voting in the country districts while in the boroughs of the county there is also a light vote being cast.

Due to election day the banks, county and state offices, stock markets, state liquor store, etc., are closed and the employees are enjoying a day's vacation.

Fine Weather; Little Illness Helped Pupils

Reports on school attendance and health occupied much of the November meeting of the board of education, held Monday evening at the high school.

Attendance for September was shown to have been 2,713, better than 97 per cent of enrollment, a fact attributable in part to the fine weather of that month, and in part to the lack of any general illness or epidemics.

The reports of the school doctors and nurses indicated 232 students had been examined in the month of October, principally at the Johnson and South street buildings in line with the state program set up for complete physical examination of all students every two years.

Another report showed 26,141 half-pints of milk sold in the month of October, and at Beauty and high school a total of 13,114 lunches in the same month.

The school census for 1945 was presented, figures for ages 6 to 17 inclusive showing 2,458 students as compared with 2,948 in 1939; school enrollment as of June, 1945, 2,621 as compared with 3,149 in 1939. Looking at the sixth grade report, figures for 1945 were shown to be the largest in seven years, and this total was matched in 1945.

A contract was entered into with the H. S. Garvey Company of Erie for installation of new tubes in one of the boilers at the Beauty building in the sum of $124.50.

Permission was granted the Dragon Band to appear in the Armistice Day program on Monday, November 11; to march in the Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade on Saturday, November 25; and for a string ensemble to appear on the Farmer-Rotary program on Thursday, November 15.

Mrs. William H. Wright was granted permission to have a dancing class for small children at East street school, one hour a day, one day a week, at a charge of $1 per hour.

Permission included that given the county commissioners to hold today's elections in the Lacy Building.

Bills were presented and ordered paid in the amount of $12,139.

Foremen's Meeting One Of Best Ever

Last night's supper meeting of the Warren Foremen's Club, held at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock, was exceptionally interesting and instructive, with a splendid attendance of 125 men.

The feature of the program, which was in charge of the Struthers-Veils group of the Club, was an illustrated talk by Dr. William C. Theisinger, an executive of the Lukens Steel Company, of Coatesville, Pa. Theisinger is a well-known metallurgist and his talk and pictures were highly instructive. A technicolor film, only recently made, showed in gripping fashion certain unique and well-developed processes of the Lukens company, in the manufacture of steel, particularly nickel-plated steels.

Special music for the occasion was furnished by a Struthers-Veils band of eleven pieces, conducted by Fred Enright. Projection of the films was ably taken care of by Archie Hunter. Dining room service was efficiently rendered by a group of ladies in charge of Mrs. Ray Lewis. Mr. Lewis, president of the club, presided during the evening's program. Dr. Theisinger was introduced by Paul Ristau, who was in charge of arrangements for the Lukens presentation.

Next month's meeting of the Club will be held on December 10, but in the meantime, on Nov. 19, the Board of Governors will meet at the "Y" to perfect plans for future programs.

Barnes Man Is Victim Of Heart Attack

Amos Taylor, 82, was found dead on the dining room floor of the dwelling house where he resided alone at Barnes, last evening, after a girl from a neighboring home called there to deliver a loaf of bread and found the doors locked and the lights burning. Several men in the vicinity broke in the kitchen door and discovered the body of Mr. Taylor.

The Borden Funeral Home at Sheffield was notified and Coroner Ed Lowrey summoned. Accompanied by Chief of Police Robert Carlberg, an investigation was made which revealed that Mr. Taylor had fallen from a chair while putting on his shoes. The right shoe was on and the other lay on the floor near the body. The kitchen light was burning and it was apparent that he had eaten his breakfast. He had fallen on his face leaving lacerations and bruises over the left eye and nose. It appeared that he passed away some time after his collapse.

Removal was made to the Borden funeral home in Sheffield. Plans for the services have not been completed.

Mr. Taylor was born in Barnes April 2, 1865, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor and spent his entire life there. His wife preceded him in death seven years ago. He is survived by a son Earl at Irvine, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Minnie Minor, Sheffield; Mrs. L. B. Dole, Mrs. Harold Mumford and Rudolph Taylor, Oklahoma, and George Taylor, of Oklahoma.

Warrenites who for months past have risen early and tugged and lugged the garbage pail and a few bags of waste to the curb for the garbage man will within a few months let the pail sit on the porch. No more will John Q. Public grunt and groan, he'll let garbage boys do it.

Curb Garbage Collection Is Soon To End

All of which sort of makes a fellow wonder if the salvage collection picking up the waste paper, old glass, metal, tin cans, etc., might not have relieved the situation during the war to a point where the curb rule was just sort of little thing to make the black side of the garbage man's ledger grow blacker. Now with the salvage all going into the garbage maybe more trucks are necessary.

Anyhow the war is over and the garbage pails will soon remain on the back stoop and not on the curb for the pleasure of diabetic and hungry canine.

New Member Seated From Second Ward On Council

C. P. DeLong, chosen as member of Council from second ward to replace Forest Waite, who has left Warren, was in attendance at the Council meeting last evening when President Patchen rapped to open the meeting.

Following the usual proceeding relative to the minutes the finance committee reported balances as follows in the several funds: General $133,439.05; permanent street improvement, $8,293.80; sewers, $153.67 (overdraft); sinking $12,363. Bills in the amount of $12,091.30 were ordered paid when approved by the various committees. It was decided to send the borough secretary to the 10th annual conference of finance officers of cities and boroughs to be held at State College.

The police last month recovered $400 in stolen goods and $12 in goods that were not stolen. 97 arrests were made with $86.50 in fines.

joyed was passed third reading.

Following this action, a letter was read from William Cannon, of the Brown Boot Shop, calling attention to the poor lights on Warren's streets and suggesting that a look be taken at Franklin and Indiana business sections by council. It was also drawn to the attention of the solons that a fatal accident had taken place on a street due to the dimness of the lights. It was also suggested that the street lights ten years ago had been cut from 1000 watt bulbs to 400 watt bulbs and the big bulbs ought to be replaced.

The rules of the Board of Health were also amended whereby fumigation in event of contagious diseases be halted and that the premises be given a sanitary cleaning before the quarantine is removed.

The building committee made a report on a search for a new Central Fire Station site and will make another at a later date. The committee was also given permission to replace shrubbery about the City Hall.

The scales report showed $98.80 had been turned in during the past month due to the heavy weighing of coal.

During the past month a mild building boom developed with $10,500 in new construction and $16,040 in remodeling permits being issued.

It was also reported that the Home street playgrounds would be drained and developed during the coming year. Equipment will also be placed.

Burgess Steber reported that purchase of a quantity of OGD equipment for North Warren and the State Hospital was being made. Warren borough, under the state plan, must buy the material and then sell it to the two interests.

Ten girls that never screamed for a real air raid will be disposed of to the best advantage.

It was also reported that the City Disposal Company has not been complying with the borough rules in handling garbage and they have been given 30 days by the burgess to correct conditions or have their license revoked.

Roy Krebs reported on the work of the special committee relative to memorial park and the committee was discharged.

Resolutions of respect for the late Charles Conarro, of the park commission, and for Walter W. Beaty, borough treasurer, were read and ordered place on the minutes and copies sent to the families.

Pastors Hear How They Can Aid Veterans

The regular meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association was held yesterday forenoon at the YMCA, the president, Rev. P. Elmer Landerdahl, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer offered by Rev. F. W. Shupe, of Russell. The devotion, following the business session, were conducted by Rev. O. L. Winger.

Guest speaker for the day was Dr. W. E. Biddle, of the State Hospital Staff, who spoke on "The Church's Responsibility to Service Men". Dr. Biddle spoke from the point of view of the psychotherapist, and pointed out how the church might be of help to the returning service people in their transition period back to civilian life.

He pointed out that many might develop psychoneuroses, due to the emotional problems with which they will be confronted, and that the minister, the family, and the friends of these service men can do much if they will try to help him solve his emotional problems. Dr. Biddle warned against any prolonged period of idleness for the returning veterans.

4-H Club Achievement In Warren County Are Recorded

(Prepared for the Times-Mirror) Accomplishments of 4-H members throughout the nation are being reviewed this week, November 5 to 10, in what has become an annual observance, National 4-H Achievement Week.

During 1945, we had a total of 11 home economics clubs in Warren County. The total enrollment was 93 members. What did these girls do in 4-H work? First of all, they learned by doing. They chose their own projects, they elected their own officers, ran their own meetings.

Many kinds of projects were chosen. "Perking Up" the Wardrobe was a new project this year, in which the girls pressed, mended, stored, and remodeled not only their own clothes but clothes of their families as well. The 4-H Club in Corydon chose this as their winter's program. There were two clubs, in Chancellors Valley and in Russell, taking first year clothing work, called "The Girl at Home." Most of these girls made broomstick skirts for themselves. They darned stockings, sewed on buttons, repaired and mended clothes, and pressed garments. The 4-H Club in Corydon took "Outdoor Cookery" as their summer project. They learned to build different kinds of fires, and how to cook food out-of-doors using utensils and without the use of any utensils. Every meeting was a cookout for the club and complete menus were planned and served each time. As a finish-up activity they planned and prepared a cookout for their parents.

There were two clubs taking the first year foods project called "It's Fun to Cook." These clubs located in Lander and Garland prepared and served 389 meals this summer. 535 dishes were prepared and 314 meals were planned. The Garland Club prepared and served a mother-daughter supper at the close of the summer while the Lander girls prepared a foods gift for someone overseas or someone in the community. The Triumph 4-H Club chose the lunch-box project. These girls prepared 139 dishes and packed 137 lunches. As a finish-up activity they packed a

The Latest Development in 50 Years of X-Ray Research

1895—Röntgen, in Germany, discovers mysterious powerful ray, names it "X"—the unknown. One year later, W. D. Coolidge, student at M.I.T., begins experimenting with x-rays. First x-ray tubes were about 25,000 volts.

1913—Dr. W. D. Coolidge, at General Electric, invents revolutionary new x-ray tube. First reliable method of controlling x-rays. This tube was 100,000 volts.

1920—Coolidge designs a completely insulated tube and transformer for a thoroughly safe x-ray unit. The first wholly safe, convenient and adequate dental x-ray outfit came out of this.

1945—NEW G-E 100-MILLION-VOLT "BETATRON"!

This 130-ton giant whirls electrons, tiniest parts of atoms, faster than man has ever been able to speed them before. So fast that they make the nearly 17-foot circular orbit of a doughnut-shaped vacuum tube 250,000 times in 1/240th of a second, and, striking a tungsten target, produce x-rays of 100-million-electron volts!

Dr. E. E. Charlton, left, and W. F. Westendorp, G-E scientists, designed this new machine, which generates x-rays over a thousand times as intense as the early Coolidge tube—with a wave length of 0.00025 Angstrom units, up in the cosmic ray band! These rays will penetrate a thickness of metal considerably greater than even the 2,000,000-volt x-ray unit.

But more important still may be the uses of these super x-ray machines in medical and atomic research. G. E. is making them available to medical science for experimental therapy. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

More Goods for More People at Less Cost

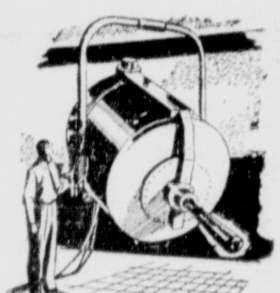

GENERAL ELECTRIC

1923—Coolidge develops a 200,000-volt "deep therapy" tube with water-cooled target. This higher voltage tube greatly reduced time required for x-ray treatments.

1933—General Electric builds multi-section tubes producing 800,000-volt x-rays. Installed in Mercy Hospital, Chicago, and Swedish Hospital, Seattle, these units have been in constant use ever since.

1940—First 1,000,000-volt unit, plus portability, making x-rays more useful to medicine and industry. Fifty-six of these units built by G-E X-Ray Corporation used in U.S. war production—even flown to England. In 1943 General Electric scientists and engineers developed the first portable 2,000,000-volt x-ray.

Four clubs in Warren County selected the Homemakers' Assistant project, the clubs in Akeley, Lottsville, Columbus, and Russell. In this project many kinds of home activities were studied. The girls served 363 meals, cleared the table and did the dishes 2155 times, cleaned many kinds of nests, 129 flower arrangements were made by the girls. The club in Columbus made very beautiful corsages which were presented to the leaders at the county-wide round-up. The Homemakers' Assistant Clubs had an open house for their mothers at which the girls demonstrated the various activities they had done during the summer.

Besides the various projects chosen by the girls themselves, the 4-H Clubs also aided numerous community ventures in their "Service for Victory" achievements. 51 4-H girls assisted neighbors with their harvest, devoting 334 days to the work.

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

On winding roads with blind curves, it is to your advantage to keep strictly to the right edge of the road. The driver who continually drives in the center of the road, cuts curves etc., is not only violating the law but is endangering his life as well as the lives of other users of the highway. Operating in the center of the roadway is the cause of a large number of accidents. Always keep to the right.

Full Hospital Service Assured by Penn'a Blue Cross Plan

Subscribers to Western Pennsylvania's Blue Cross Plan, the Hospital Service Association of Pittsburgh, who are hospitalized out of Western Pennsylvania may receive the full hospital services guaranteed by the plan of which the hospital they are in is a member, Abraham Oseroff, vice-president of the association said today.

The Hospital Service Association, one of 33 Blue Cross Plans across the country which have already agreed on full reciprocity of benefits. Other Blue Cross Plans are expected to enter the agreement soon.

In the past, participants in Blue Cross Plans have received the hospital services offered by their own plan, they have received a per diem payment to apply against the hospital bill instead of guaranteed hospital service.

Under the new Reciprocity agreement, a Hospital Service Association of Pittsburgh subscriber, for instance, who found it necessary to go to the hospital in Florida, would receive all the hospital services offered by the Florida Blue Cross Plan, just as though he were a member of that plan. A Florida Blue Cross Plan subscriber would receive the benefits of the Pittsburgh Plan if he were hospitalized in any of the 29 counties in Western Pennsylvania.

All Blue Cross Plans are non-profit and sponsored by the hospitals. There are now 19,000,000 members in the United States, Canada, and Porto Rico. Over 2200 hospitals are member hospitals.

In western Pennsylvania, there are 820,000 Blue Cross participants.

"The American public knows that we cannot . . . maintain our national economy at the high levels required . . . If we cannot have productive peace instead of disruptive war on the industrial front." So Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan wrote to Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach last summer. This letter is credited with having crystallized, for the Secretary and President Truman, the plan to call the National Labor-Management Conference.

"Responsible management knows," Senator Vandenberg also wrote, "that free collective bargaining is here to stay and that progressive law must continue to support it and that it must be accepted." Also—

"Responsible labor leadership knows that irresponsible strikes and subversive attacks upon essential production are the gravest threats to the permanent success of Labor's Bill of Rights."

Illustrated above are the guiding ideals behind the National Labor-Management Conference in Washington, where representatives of both sides, meeting in the democratic tradition of the conference table, seek to establish long-term policies aimed at bettering human relationships in industry.

C. Seymour Scout Head Is Leaving Town

On December 1st, Chester R. Seymour, local Scout Executive, will assume the responsibilities of the office of Scout Executive of the Adirondack Council with office in Saranac Lake, New York, it was learned this morning from H. L. Banghart, president of the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Seymour's registration was accepted at a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Council's Executive Board held recently.

The Adirondack Council area covers two and one half counties along the northern border of the state—Franklin, Clinton and a part of Essex County. The Council has fifty three units—Scout Troops, Cub Packs, and Senior Units, and operates on the basis of five districts. It has one Field Scout Executive, living in Plattsburgh at the present time, and is committed to add another man to the staff as quickly as possible. A 1400 acre tract of land in the Adirondack Mountains was given to the Council in recent years for their summer training camp.

Contact has already been established with the Regional Office of the Boy Scouts of America in Philadelphia, Mr. Banghart said, and it is hoped that applications for use by the selections committee in filling the position here will be received within a few days. The members of the selection committee are William E. Yeager, chairman; C. C. Winans, B. W. Knapp, and H. L. Blair.

"GREATEST FORD EVER BUILT"

Says Public from Coast to Coast!

"How Soon?" and "How Much?" Ask Throngs in Dealer Showrooms

On October 26 the new Fords for 1946 went on display in dealer showrooms the country over. In city after city, town after town, dealers reported that the crowds who came to view these fine new automobiles equalled those who greeted the introduction of the famous Ford Model "A" back in 1927—when showroom attendance passed the 10,000,000 mark.

The opening day throngs were matched by those who came Saturday and later. And their opinion has been unanimous. The words most frequently heard have been "The Greatest Ford Ever Built". They backed up their acclaim with orders—326,840 on "V-8 Day," October 26—and Saturday, October 27.

This advertisement is published to record

the deep gratification of the entire Ford organization at this splendid public reception . . . and to answer, as directly as we possibly can, the two questions most often asked.

"How Soon Can I Get My New Ford?" We sincerely believe the answer is: "Sooner than you think!" And here's why—Ford, first with assembly line production of postwar cars, first to stock dealers for a nationwide display, is first in quantity production—1,000 units a day reached last week . . . 2,000 a day in prospect within 30 days.

"How Much Will My New Ford Cost?" We think the answer to this is found in Ford's unvarying policy through more than 40 years of operation; always the highest quality at the lowest possible cost.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET SEEN THE NEW FORDS: All our dealers have them on display. Please make it a point to see if you, too, don't agree that these are the "Greatest Fords Ever Built".

Chapter 21
THE two days at the farm passed swiftly for Anne. She went with her father to milk as she knew he wanted her to do and helped to separate it afterwards. As she worked with her mother about the house they talked endlessly as women will. Anne told her mother something of her life in town while Mrs. Winslow related the news of the community. On Saturday afternoon she drove with her parents into Brownsville to leave the cream at a big dairy and to do a bit of marketing. They drove home through the late afternoon sunshine.
The old house sprawled on the side of the hill was in a perfect avalanche of blossoms. The snow-balls hung white and heavy from long branches. A clump of bridal wreath by the front gate was a great white drift against the new green of a crimson-starred burning-bush, while over it all trailed the perfume-laden honeysuckle which covered the front porch and hung its blossoms across all the fences. The air was heavy with its sweetness.
On Sunday morning they went to the little country church where Anne had worshipped as a child. For old friends gathered around to greet her genuinely glad to see her again. Miss Talbot, who had been her fourth grade teacher; Mr. Chad Alloway; Louella and Jim Radcliffe, her schoolmates. The old minister, the Reverend Conover, long her friend and confidante, smiled at her over the top of his big old Bible. All the older people were there, but the young men and many of the girls had left vacant places behind them.
The muted intonations of the old organ lifted a grand old hymn. Anne joined in singing "Faith of Our Fathers." She put a fervency into the words she had never felt before.
Then old Mr. Conover opened

Chapter 22
GET your hat and let's get out of here!" Wayne cried.
Anne laughed. "I didn't wear a hat."
Anne was conscious of the envious eyes of the other girls upon her. She was tingling from head to foot with excitement. Mr. Farham appeared in the doorway to grasp Wayne's hand.
"It's good to see you, Wayne. You're looking splendid. So this is your first time here, is it? You and Anne came back to town today, Anne?" he smiled.
"No—upon my word, Mr. Farham. I didn't know he was coming. It must have been fate that brought me back!"
"I didn't let anybody know I was going to get this leave," Wayne explained. "I didn't want any—visitors, and I didn't want anything to go wrong. Uncle Nathan, I hope you don't mind—but we're going to do without a secretary today."
Mr. Farham shrugged. "Inasmuch as I didn't expect her back anyway, I'll try to get along."
"Where have you been anyway?" Wayne wanted to know.
"Home to visit my mother and father!"
"That was a heck of a thing to do! Suppose you hadn't been here when I needed you?"
"But I am here!"
THEY went straight to a jewelry store where they picked out a diamond-studded wedding ring. Wayne really did the picking. Anne agreeing to everything he suggested. She thought, "I've never been so completely happy—not even during the first few days of our engagement!" The feeling of desolation she had known coming home on the bus last night was entirely gone now.
Wayne said, "We'll really start out tonight, little darling. And tomorrow will really be the day—at last. You get on your prettiest evening frock. What I mean to tell you, lady, is we're really going places!"
As Anne came in the front door of Mrs. Adams' house the telephone was ringing. Not seeing

SOCIETY

Gridiron Finale Is Theme Arranged For Youth Activity

The Committee on Community Recreation is planning a "Gridiron Finale" party for Saturday, November 10th, especially honoring the Warren High School football varsity and the coaches. Bill Erickson and Barbara Benson, co-chairmen for the November community parties, promise an evening of fun for all young people, in the high school building age group through the early twenties.
A brief meeting will be held tomorrow evening at seven o'clock in the high school study hall for all chairmen and their committee members. It is important that everyone working on the Saturday night party be at this meeting, which will close promptly at 7:30. Bill Dobbs' Orchestra has been secured for the evening, providing music for the dancing and the floor show. Frank Feisi will be the master of ceremonies for the occasion and has promised a lineup of real acts.
Betty Lou Hook and Pat Wade have charge of decorating for the party; Lee Ellis and Bill Erickson, set-up; Louis Love and Pat Johnson, cleanup; Meredith Hutchings and Marcia Johnson, checkroom; Alcott Erickson, light; Bill Carter, public address system; Charles Cochener and Georgia Spinney, door committees; Betsy Conaway, Marie Winans, and Dora Messner, game room; Jo Ann Phillips, Evelyn Peterson, Rita Scrivano, Jean Crockett, Jean Way and Marce Kameron, refreshments; Bud Marzer, reservations; Teresa Elmo, Frank Felix and John Erickson, floor show.

AS the bus pulled out she waved to them, standing on the platform side by side. Thus they had ever stood throughout her life—firm, dependable and together. Her eyes blurred as they passed from view. She thought of herself and Wayne standing side by side like that through all the days that lay beyond tomorrow. Would they remain as firm and stable as they were now? The study suggested that would make them to become a bulwark of dependence for their own children?
Goodness! She had certainly been plunged into a serious mood. It was seeing all these empty places at church the last night, and the meaning of it in her mother's eyes. She wished that she might be permitted to do something very gay and reckless! "I believe, living alone isn't good for me," she mused as the miles sped by. "I get too much into the habit of taking myself apart. With ten and a time alone things get out of perspective. I need someone terribly gay about me to counteract the tendency I seem to have lately to brood. Tomorrow I think I'll put an advertisement in the paper for a roommate. And I won't accept anyone who isn't a mix-up with a sense of humor that will give me a good laugh once in a while!"
On her way to her office next morning she stopped by the office of the Evening Recorder and left her ad. It gave her a little feeling of excitement to look forward to a new beginning.
But all such thoughts were soon wiped from her mind for about mid-morning the doorway of the office was flung open as if a whirlwind were about to enter—and there stood Wayne McDowell grinning at her, his eyes shining with delight at sight of her!

Youngsville WSCS Group Gatherings

Youngsville, Mo. 5—There was a good attendance and an interesting program for the meeting of the evening group of the WSCS, held at the home of Mrs. Belle Kay, with the president, Mrs. Vivian Smith, presiding. A nominating committee was appointed to report at the December 6 meeting, when Mrs. Leota Day and Mrs. Frank Black will be hostesses. Election of officers will take place at that time and there will be a mixer opening.
Rev. E. W. Chitester was the speaker for this month's meeting, giving an inspiring talk on ideals, opportunities and influence of Christians. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Kay in serving a pleasing luncheon were Mrs. Ray Beckenbach and Mrs. R. L. Mead.
The afternoon WSCS group met in the church parlors Friday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Miss Nellie Knapp; vice president, Mrs. Warren Jones; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Dyer; recording secretary, Mrs. C. E. Anderson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. R. Briggs; devotional leader, Mrs. Nora Russell; secretary of missions, Mrs. H. H. Husted; church activities, Mrs. C. W. Spencer; church relations, Mrs. Clayton Young; fellowship, Mrs. R. H. Knapp; literature, Mrs. Edna Haupin; supplies, Mrs. Chas. Briggs; girls work, Mrs. John Knapp and Mrs. Lee Peoples; children's work, Mrs. M. Sellin; membership, Mrs. McCanna; remembrances, Mrs. C. R. Hoover; powers for church membership, Mrs. R. L. Mead; spiritual life, Mrs. E. W. Chitester.
The above officers will be installed at the meeting of Dec. 7th which is also mixer opening. At this meeting there will be a little social time and an exchange of white elephant gifts.
Following the business session a comprehensive address was given by Rev. C. W. Chitester on world conditions being particularly appropriate to the occasion as Friday Nov. 2 was designated World Community Day. His thought was that though modern methods of travel have put the rest of the world in America's back yard, we will not be a real world community in the best sense without the practice of Christian ideals.
Mrs. M. H. Sellin and committee served an appropriate luncheon. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Samuel Davis of Erie, wife of a former pastor, Mrs. S. N. Penicost of Cleveland, Ohio, with Mrs. Chitester spoke briefly of other societies of W.S.C.S. which they had attended.

When she had put it on with her silver slippers and a band of silver rosebuds in her hair, she realized that she had never looked lovelier. Her honey-colored hair curled lovingly around her flushed face and her gray eyes shone with happiness. When she heard Wayne's ring at the door she caught up a light wrap and ran down to meet him. He stepped inside, caught his breath at sight of her and kissed her until she was breathless. Then they went down the pathway bordered by box hedges hand in hand.
When they reached Wayne's car parked at the curb, Anne drew back in shocked surprise. Carol King, gorgeous in a flame-colored gown, leaned out to greet her.
"Hello, Anne," she said, her beautiful mouth smiling serenely. "I persuaded Wayne to be selfish of him to keep himself away from his friends. So Jimmy and I came along. Anne Winslow, this is Jimmy Foster!"
Anne barely looked at the boy by Carol's side. She was trembling with anger and disappointment. Wayne was wearing an uneasy expression—one that she had come to recognize that he wore when he considered himself the victim of circumstances. She caught her lip savagely between her teeth as within her there was born the determination to let nothing—not even Carol King's plotting—spoil this evening.
"I'm sure it's quite all right for you to come along if Wayne thinks so, Carol," she said charmingly, "but I hope you won't mind if we don't pay too much attention to you and Jimmy. Shall we go, Wayne, darling?"
ANNE felt quite pleased with herself. "What Wayne needs is for me to make decisions for him, I guess," she thought. "And from now on, I'm going to do it." And she sat shamelessly close to him, her head all but on his shoulder. When they got out of the car Carol gave her a look of pure venom. But Anne tossed her head and slid her hand through Wayne's arm. There was no way of daunting her tonight.

Want Similar Group

Bradford young people, who have hopes of perfecting in their community a group similar to the Warren PAK, came here in large numbers on Sunday night to attend the Church of Tomorrow service in the First Presbyterian church. The 41 present from Bradford, including eight adult leaders, provided a sizeable showing in the total attendance of 125. Special guests were Leland Day and Allen Woodruff, home on tour; Beth Smith, from Indiana State Teachers College, and Ruth Eaton, back from Buffalo for the weekend. Dr. H. C. Warren preached a fine sermon on "20th Century Heroes" for the service which followed an early dinner served at prettily decorated tables by the May R. Stone Class. Mrs. Robert Beatty directed the PAK choir in three lovely numbers, and Richard Kerr, PAK member, was at the organ. After the service, an informal reception was held in the church parlors, Mrs. Warren R. Carlin, Woman's Aid president, assisting in welcoming the guests. The room had been decorated by PAK members with fall flowers to provide an attractive setting for the party.
This evening at 6:10, PAK's Club "17" will have its second fall meeting in Trinity parish house, Mrs. Palmer Davis and her committee to serve supper provided by D. W. Lewis and dancing to follow a program of entertainment. Serving as committee are Don White, Dale Holcomb, Rachel Smith and Bill Taylor.
In prospect for November 23, when the guest speaker will be Chauncey E. Davis, former boys' work secretary at the local YMCA and now general secretary of the Hazleton YMCA.

Time Draws Near Jamestown Lady For Club Bazaar Has Art Message

The past six months have been busy ones for those members of the Woman's Club who have been active in preparations for the fall bazaar. Meetings have been held in various homes, where a period of sewing followed luncheon or tea, and a variety of articles were planned and made.
Dates of this important club project have been set for Thursday and Friday, November 15-16, two days the public as well as the club membership will want to keep in mind.
Working under the general chairmanship of Mrs. R. G. Dawson, many groups have been preparing articles for Mrs. E. E. Hertz, Mrs. Walter Beatty and Mrs. John L. Blair, and bazaar booths will contain such items as hats and bed linens, novelties and bags of all types, wearing apparel that will include neckwear for old and young, aprons and items for the infant, a thrift department, toys, a shop for Milady, and a Pastry Shelf that will provide hot and cold foods of the delicatessen line.
The bazaar will be open each afternoon at one o'clock and remain open through the evening until nine, with a tea hour each afternoon from four until six in charge of Mrs. Albert Rockwell's Entertainment Committee.
Mrs. Everard Miller, of Jamestown, N. Y., speaking at yesterday's meeting of the Woman's Club Art Department, described herself as an English teacher and refugee from China rather than an authority on that country's art. She related that upon first arriving there and taking up her duties among the poorer classes, she had read with scorn the quotation "Beauty is China's Heritage", but that her experiences over a number of years had taught her that the saying was indeed a true one. Since her own art treasures were left behind when she flew out over "The Hump" with only 34 pounds of possessions allowed her, she has borrowed from friends many examples of paintings, scrolls, silk and grass cloth pieces, jewelry and porcelain objects. She explained the meaning of the motifs used in decoration of these, and spoke briefly of the Chinese use of metals, marble and lacquer. Her manner of delivery was an easy, informal one and her presentation was ended all too soon for her interested audience.
Mrs. K. M. Andrews was hostess for the tea hour which followed the program.

Carroll Favorite Chosen for Radio Drama By Children

Warren boys and girls, and adults, too, will welcome the announcement that one of the highlights in this year's celebration of National Book Week and American Education Week will be the presentation of a radio play, with a cast of children. The play will be presented on the Sunday afternoon radio drama series, sponsored by the Metzger-Wright Company, on November 19th.
Both children and adults will be pleased with the selection of the perennial favorite, Alice in Wonderland, by Lewis Carroll. There will be tryouts for the radio adaptation on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 3:30, in the Warren public library.
In the play will appear some of the best loved characters of the famous book, Alice herself, of course; the Rabbit; the Caterpillar; the March Hare; the Dormouse; the Gryphon; the Mock Turtle; the King of Hearts; the Queen of Hearts; the Red Queen; the Mad Hatter; and Alice's sister. There will also be a chorus of children's voices in the choral reading for the play.
Boys and girls who are interested are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Huff or Miss Spinney at public library. Other Book Week plans will be announced later this week.

Women in your 40's

Do these symptoms Betray your Age?

Do you—like so many women between the ages of 38 and 52—suffer from hot flashes, nervous tension, irritability, are a bit blue at times—due to the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women?

Youngsville, Charles "Chapple" Wright, of Sugar Grove, Ray Shellin and Joseph "Jiggs" Bonavita, of Warren, sat around a barracks table and talked about the good old times and friendships that we knew in Warren.

We found out from Shellin that John Nordin, of Warren, is stationed a few miles from all of us and we intend to get in touch with him shortly and really have a big session of Warren talks in far-off Honolulu.

It really is a very pleasant experience for all of us to be together. Ray, Roy, Chapple and Jiggs, and we imagine John, would like to say "Aloha" to all our friends in Warren.

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built—it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's

12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all—in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942.

The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks.

In fact—the best Buicks yet!

What other car has so much that clicks for Forty-Six!

POWER—from a Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine that gets peak return from every drop of fuel.

HIGH STYLE—of car-length Airfoil fenders with bolt-on rear wheel shields.

OIL SAVINGS—from non-scuffing Accurate cylinder bores.

FLASHING ACTION—of light, lively Fliteweight pistons.

STEADINESS—from full-length torque-tube drive in a sealed chassis.

GLIDING RIDE—from Panther-gait all-coil springing with only a comfort job to do.

COMFORT—of soft Foamtex cushions with luxury-type springs.

SURE FOOTING—of Broadrim wheels; maximum tire mileage, no heel-over on curves, and better car control.

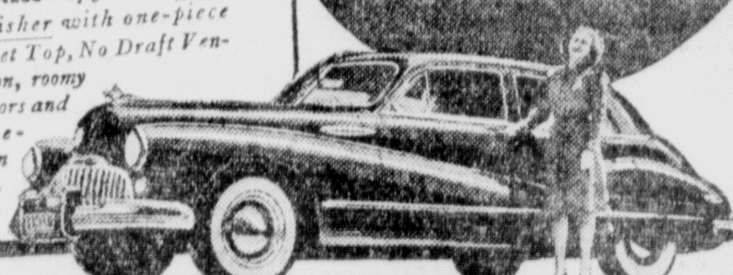

CONTROL—through Permi-firm steering which eliminates need for frequent adjustments.

CONVENIENCE—of high-leverage Step-On parking brake that sets with a toe-touch and holds fast.

PROTECTION—of buttressed front and rear bumpers, curved to shield fenders, built for new bumper jack.

SMARTNESS—of genuine Body by Fisher with one-piece Turret Top, No Draft Ventilation, roomy interiors and three-person seats.
